

President Wants To Know Prospects For Railway Accord

Implies Monday Is Deadline For Voluntary Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bargaining talks aimed at averting a nationwide railroad strike were spurred on today by President Johnson's implied shorter deadline for a voluntary settlement.

"We should know definitely, not later than next Monday, whether the parties to this dispute will settle it by the process of bargaining and by responsible reason," Johnson said Wednesday.

"The country expects that answer to be yes," Johnson said after conferring privately with federal mediators and negotiators for five unions and nearly 200 railroads.

Doesn't Map Course
Johnson did not say what he might do if the talks fail, but he would have no power to halt a scheduled strike April 25 unless he asked Congress for special legislation.

The five-year dispute over wages, job classifications and working conditions had exhausted all provisions of federal law when Johnson won a 15-day strike postponement last Friday and set up the emergency bargaining talks.

"There is no settlement yet," Johnson said Wednesday on the sixth day of the talks, "and there can be no settlement until all issues are disposed of."

His reference to a definite decision by Monday was the first official indication that he will not let the entire 15-day postponement elapse without considering other steps.

"So far, there's been no threat of legislation," said George Reedy, White House press secretary.

"The principal question," Johnson said, "is whether these bargainers can, in 15 days, get over four years of the idea of somebody else settling their disagreements for them. I hope they can. I think they can."

He asked for another "definitive" report on the talks by this weekend.

The five train operating unions represent about 200,000 employees. They are protesting proposed railroad work - rules changes which they contend would amount to substantial pay cuts for many workers and eliminate many jobs.

12 Sentenced for Participating in Train Robbery

AYLESBURY, England (AP) — Judge Edmund Davies sentenced 12 men today to prison terms ranging up to 30 years for their part in Britain's great train robbery.

Seven men were sentenced to prison for 30 years, two for 25, one for 24, one for 20 and one for three years.

The robbery of the Glasgow to London mail train on Aug. 8 netted the gang 2.6 million pounds — $7,680,000 — the greatest cash haul in modern times.

The big robbery occurred at a nearby hamlet when about 15 men stopped the mail train with a false red signal and overpowered clerks in the car carrying most of the money.

The police have recovered only about 300,000 pounds ($940,000). They think the rest has been cashed away by three or four men, so far uncaught, who masterminded the theft.

Reynolds Expected to Veto Senate Bill on Redistricting

Appeal to Court Planned If Chief Executive Kills It After Assembly's Vote

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Senate, facing the promise of a veto from Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds, has approved a legislative reapportionment bill that gives Waukesha County two more Assembly seats, but raises the Milwaukee County total by only one to 25.

The governor has said he will veto any bill that does not give 26 seats to strongly Democratic Milwaukee County, the state's population center.

The reapportionment bill, drafted by Sen. Jerris Leonard, R-Milwaukee, was passed after four hours of debate Wednesday as the Legislature hurried to meet a May 1 redistricting deadline set by the State Supreme Court. The court said last winter that if the job was not completed by that date, it would reapportion Senate and Assembly districts by May 15. The bill passed the Senate on a 22-11 vote.

Senate Acts Quickly
"This is a good plan," Leonard told the Senate. "If it is passed by the Assembly and vetoed by the governor I will intervene in the Supreme Court and urge that the court adopt this plan."

The Senate acted on reapportionment soon after hearing a fiscal address by Reynolds, who said he anticipated a surplus of $50.5 million and urged that nearly half of it be used to ease property taxes for persons over 65.

"He puts us in a very difficult position," said Robert Haase, the Assembly's Republican speaker from Marinette. "He knows very well the surplus figures he used are not proper."

While other spokesmen for the Republicans, who hold majorities in both the Senate and Assembly, called the governor's speech a "pie in the sky concept," Reynolds took his appeal to the public.

Veterans Hear Reynolds

Speaking to the Wisconsin Veterans Council at Madison Wednesday night, he said, "Just about every living veteran of World War I is 65 years of age or older" and would be eligible for the homestead tax relief program.

The governor said that World War I veterans, and others in the same age bracket, have retired but their property taxes have not dropped with their incomes. "Many of your fellow

Middle-Road Policy Pledged To Brazilians

Curb on Leftists, Reactionary Right, President Promises

BY ROBERT BERRELLEZ

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — Brazil's new military president has promised a moderate regime in which "remedies for left-wing extremism will not give birth to a reactionary right."

Gen. Humberto Castello Branco, 63, was inaugurated Wednesday to serve 21 months remaining in the term of leftist President Joao Goulart, deposed April 1 in a coup led by Castello Branco, then army chief of staff.

"All democratic and free nations will be our allies," said the new president, "just as all those people who desire to be free and want representative democracy can count on Brazil's support."

Break With Cuba Hinted
This was considered by some to hint at a diplomatic break with Cuba, which conservative political leaders have been demanding since Goulart's overthrow.

Cheers and applause from the packed Chamber of Deputies greeted Castello Branco's 17-minute inaugural address, which was viewed as shifting

George R. Pike showed up at the tax collector's office Wednesday with 9,655 pennies to pay his street assessment bill. Pike, somehow, felt the city was to blame because water seeped into his basement during the recent flood so he retaliated with the pennies. There were 193 rolls in all and the Louisville, Ky., city officials made him sign each one before leaving. (AP Wirephoto)

Civil Rights Backers Hit at Disturbances

Declare Violence Harmful to Their Efforts to Pass Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican and Democratic senators charged with shepherding the civil rights bill through the Senate have warned that illegal demonstrations and disturbances that lead to violence "are hurting our efforts."

The statement was issued Wednesday night by Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., after proposals by splinter civil rights groups for disrupting traffic to the New York World's Fair and other disorders.

Blow to Legislation
The two senators declared: "Illegal disturbances, demonstrations which lead to violence or injury, strike grievous blows at the cause of decent civil rights legislation."

"Unruly demonstrations and protests that bring hardship, and unnecessary inconvenience to others—even by those who have long suffered indignities—are not helping the cause of civil rights," the statement said.

As the Senate debate stretched into its 32nd session today, Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., joined senators who are urging amendment of the House-passed bill.

Cotton said in a statement he would vote for cloture—to cut off debate on the measure so that it can be voted on—"but not until real consideration is given to corrective amendments."

Roy Cohn Case Scheduled for U. S. Jury Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The case of Roy M. Cohn and Murray E. Gottesman, New York lawyers, goes to a U. S. District Court jury of 10 men and 2 women today.

Cohn, 37, onetime aide to the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., is charged with perjury and obstruction of justice. Gottesman, 56, is charged with perjury.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Gerald Walpin urged the jury to disregard defense contentions that the government had made a deal with confessed stock swindlers to "get" Cohn.

Cohn has testified that some persons in the Department of Justice were trying to "get" him. Before the trial started, Cohn charged publicly that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was a leader of a "vendetta" against him.

The main issue in the trial, Walpin said, is whether Cohn and Gottesman obstructed a 1962 federal grand jury investigation. The grand jury was seeking to determine whether anything improper had been done during the government's investigation of the United Dye and Chemical Corp. stock fraud case in 1959.

Hussein Airs Arab Concern Over Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan, ending his talks here today, has joined President Johnson in expressing hope for a "just peace" in the Middle East but has also voiced Arab concern with U.S. policy in that area.

Hussein, who goes to New York next, declared that American policy toward "the tragedy of Palestine has been distressing."

Appearing as the spokesman for 13 Arab nations at a public luncheon Wednesday arranged by the Citizens Committee on American Policy in the Middle East, Hussein said Americans are not adequately informed about one million Arab refugees whom he said had been "forcibly uprooted" by Israel from their homes in Palestine.

It is time, he declared, for the United States to take a new look at the problem and added that "adherents of the Jewish faith" should search their souls on "the whole problem of Zionism" that can "engulf them and others in a senseless and ruthless calamity."

A third student, Richard Shepard, 21, of Sparta, was in the car suffering from a broken wrist and shoulder. He was taken to Hudson Memorial Hospital. The accident occurred at the intersection of St. Croix County Trunks A and U.

2 Students Found Dead in Wrecked Car Near Hudson

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two River Falls College students were found dead in their wrecked automobile in St. Croix County today. Their deaths raised the Wisconsin traffic toll for the year to 262, compared with 184 on this date a year ago.

Donald L. Simon, Route 1, Prairie Farm and Mark J. Kinney, Hammond, Wis., both 21, were found dead at 5 a.m. today in an auto which authorities said apparently left a highway near Hudson at 2:40 a.m.

Fire Kills Boy in Detention Center

Victim Put in Security Cell Earlier After Setting Blaze

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A 15-year old boy admitted to the Milwaukee detention center a month ago as "uncontrollable," died Wednesday when his cell was swept by a fire authorities said he had started.

He was Thomas Snyder, one of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder of Milwaukee. Authorities at the County Children's Center in suburban Wauwatosa, said the boy had been placed in the security cell Tuesday night after he was found burning comic books in his room. The security cell is called "the rock" and "solitary" by the young inmates.

Robert F. Perkins, superintendent of the detention home, said that matches had been taken from the boy when he was placed in the security unit. Officials said only four persons had contact with the boy since he was placed alone in the cell. Two of them were questioned and denied giving him matches. The boy was found unconscious on a rubber padded mattress in the six by nine foot cell, which has plywood panel walls and rubber tile on the floor. A bunk was the only furniture in the room.

Perkins said he and another administrator smelled smoke 25 minutes after the latest check on Snyder's cell. Andrew Lewis, assistant superintendent of the detention home, said he pulled the boy from the cell.

Fire Extinguished

Thick smoke forced them to move the boy to the basement, where efforts to revive him were continued until he was taken to the nearby County General Hospital.

The intense fire was extinguished within an hour by the county institutions fire department and the Wauwatosa Fire Department. An adjacent office and hallway were damaged extensively. Damage was estimated at $5,000 by Harold Nourse, the institution's fire chief.

Fire authorities evacuated 22 girls and 60 boys from the detention home.

Leap Into Playing Market a Disaster For American Reds

Expected Depression Did Not Come and Party Lost a Bundle

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

Certain that Stalin was inflexible, the Communist party of the United States — CPUSA — took a giddy leap into Wall Street.

It had the wrong market analyst. The Russian bear market failed to materialize. Ex-Communists tell it this way:

Red doctrine decreed that world war would ring the death knell of world capitalism. A Communist economist named Eugene Varga had doubts, however, and wrote that the U.S. postwar depression might be delayed some years.

Furious, Stalin denounced and banished Varga, then reasserted the doctrine: Immediate U.S. depression was inevitable. It was all CPUSA needed.

Working Capital

Happily, the party in 1946 dipped into its considerable working capital and sallied into the market, intent on making money to finance the revolution which would come soon after the inevitable depression. Party financiers sold short.

Result: Disaster. The depression didn't come. The party lost a bundle.

To this day, Communists see nothing funny in the incident, and this reveals one of the party's great drawbacks in America. It could not permit a sense of humor. It could not afford a joke on itself. It could not be other than arrogant in demanding that its members restrict their thinking to the Kremlin's rigid rules.

After suffering heavy membership losses because of the Nazi-Soviet pact signalling World War II, the Communists recouped when Germany attacked the Soviet Union. The party abruptly dropped its anti-war campaign of strikes and sabotage. Overnight, Communists became superpatriots. Party boss Earl Browder forgot his antiwar pronouncements and became prowar.

Party Decline

But in the long run this contributed to the party's decline. Browder and others were not agile enough after the war.

Browder, who had earned a reputation as an executive in the Communist International conspiracy, seemed to believe that the Roosevelt, Churchill, Stalin agreements presaged a postwar era in which Communists could win their aims by nonviolent means. He even conceived the idea of changing the party to the "Communist Political Association," abandoning the conspiratorial structure and becoming outwardly respectable.

Browder was 15 years ahead of his time. What he was in 1945 Soviet Premier Khrushchev became in the 1960s. What the Russians were in 1945, the Red Chinese became in the 1960s. That is, Browder-like ideas, now espoused by Khrushchev, caused the Soviet-Chinese split.

Browder Deposed

However, for his pains in 1945 Browder was deposed. Moscow chose French Communist leader Jacques Duclos as the executor, with the notorious "Duclos letter" denouncing the new sin of "Browderism."

Only add to Folio—

The lesson for the CPUSA politburo was that diplomatic accords were only scraps of paper to be discarded at will, and that nothing could slow the grim struggle of the Red world for supremacy.

With Browder's downfall and new contortions of Soviet policy, the party again lost members at a rapid clip. By 1948, leadership, headed for a new debacle.

Party Decision

To a man, today's ex-Communists agree that the party decision to support the progressive party presidential campaign of Henry A. Wallace spelled disaster.

Interpreting the Duclos letter, Foster ordered trade unions under party control to give all-out support to Wallace, whose movement provided promise of a political organization susceptible to infiltration.

Labor support went to President Harry S. Truman. Wallace emerged with a miserable showing. Communist hopes lay in ruins.

More jolts were coming. The party was deeply involved in sensational spy disclosures. Congressional investigations poured on more heat. A dozen party leaders were convicted for advocating overthrow of the government by force. A new Internal Security Act required the party to register and thus lay bare its financial and leadership. The membership was down to about 60,000. Then, reading the "Duclos letter" as the word of Stalin, the U.S. party, again under William Z. Foster's domination, decided to support Wallace.

Members Panicked

The party panicked. Its leaders acted as if the CPUSA had been outlawed, and as if the bitter cold war meant hot war was just around the corner.

Several thousand Communists went underground. Many party offices were closed. Top leaders facing five-year prison sentences argued among themselves — another Moscow-like, backstage power struggle — about which of them should go to prison and which should skip bail.

More shocks were coming. Stalin died and his successors battled for control. Communists were asked to believe that Stalin's chief execution, police boss Lavrenty Beria, had in reality been an American spy all along.

Then came the biggest shock of all. In 1956, Khrushchev denounced the departed Stalin as a Byzantine monster.

Bridge-Tunnel Across Chesapeake Bay Open

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — A roadway that spans Chesapeake Bay 30 feet above the waves—and twice dips to the bay bottom—opened Wednesday. The bridge-tunnel erases the last major water barrier on one of the East Coast's main north-south arteries.

The $200-million, 17.6-mile long bridge-tunnel is the first direct link between Virginia's Eastern Shore and the rest of the state. The bridge-tunnel will eliminate a ferry service that can trace its predecessors to 1607.

Main Route

Motorists using the Ocean Highway, main route from New York to Jacksonville, Fla., will find the new crossing clips 90 minutes off their travel time.

Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr. officially opens the bridge-tunnel at 2 p.m. (EST).

The project, which required 3½ years to build, was financed by $200 million in revenue toll bonds. It will be operated by the Chesapeake Bay Bridge and Tunnel Commission, a state agency.

The American Society of Civil Engineers has designated the new crossing one of the "seven engineering wonders of the world," selected among 107 projects in 26 countries.

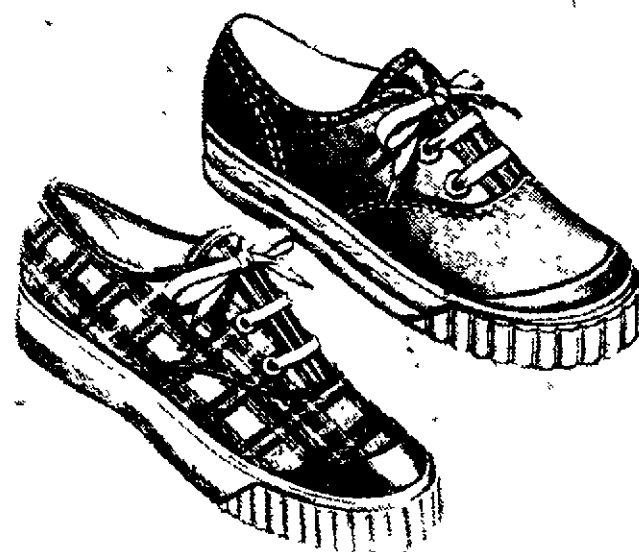

The crossing consists of 12 miles of concrete trestle; two tunnels, each a mile long; two steel bridges; four man-made islands that anchor the tunnels, and 1½ miles of earthfill causeway.

Traffic engineers estimate the new crossing will carry an average of 5,000 vehicles per day during its first year, compared to 2,000 daily using the ferries.

Services' Academies Offer Dedicated Men Opportunity

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

When a young man reaches the age of 18 it is likely that he has three major interests — his unfolding career, sports and athletics and girls. These interests do not necessarily fall into that order and it probably doesn't matter too much at present. Sooner or later, for most men, such wondrous things fall into perspective and their proper places.

Now, however, he must also consider his military status. A public law of September, 1963, has engaged his obligation to six years of service in one or the other of the armed forces. How he chooses to serve his country on the terms of his obligation is a matter which he and his parents should decide before he is drafted to two years of active duty.

Possibly it is wiser for him to join one of the Reserve units or to volunteer for the draft (two years of active duty) for by doing so he wins the privilege of selection as discussed in a previous article of this series.

He might also consider an effort to enter one of the great service academies: The United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, (Navy or Marine); The U. S. Military Academy at West are high ones but the educational facilities and advantages are superb.

In the Coast Guard Academy, entrance is achieved by a nationwide competitive examination. The four-year college Naval course leads to a commission as a Regular Coast Guard Ensign, and any applicant for enrollment in the academy will be urged to serve in the Coast Guard as a career.

Entrants must be at least five feet, four inches tall, but not taller than six feet, six inches. Vision must be at least 20/30 in each eye, correctable to 20/20.

An applicant in the Coast Guard Academy usually is one who stands in the top quarter of his high school class. The national competition takes place annually on the first Saturday of December. Evaluation of the results of the competition (plus leadership traits and a record of participation in extracurricular high school activities) will determine the applicant's final standing on the appointment list.

4-Year Course

The four-year course is a balanced curriculum in college-level courses in engineering, social studies, humanities, and military courses. Upon graduation, a cadet is awarded a B.S. degree.

To enter the Air Force Academy, the candidate must be aged from 17 to 22. In a four-year college course, cadets win a B.S. degree and a commission as a Regular Air Force 2nd lieutenant.

In most cases, entrance in the USAF Academy is by congressional appointment and a following examination. Requirements are rigid and the appointee will be urged to make the Air Force his career.

A four-year college military course also is provided by the United States Military Academy and entrance is principally by Congressional appointment followed by examinations. Requirements are rigid and the applicant is urged to make the Army his career.

Naval Academy

Because requirements and educational programs are similar in the services, the U. S. Naval Academy will be considered here in some detail.

Age limits are established by law. For Annapolis, the candidate must be between 17 and 22. Although generally an appointment must be obtained from a member of the Congress of the United States, the Secretary of the Navy may decline to accept any candidate for just cause. The Navy Department itself may sponsor nominations.

Presidential nominations are available to sons of officers and enlisted men of the regular Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force and Coast Guard. Applications of this kind may be made by letter to the Chief of Naval Personnel, Navy Dept., Washington 25, D. C. Annually, 75 Presidential appointments may be made.

Congressional appointments may be made by the vice president, each U. S. Senator, and each representative in the House of Representatives. Applications for nomination from these sources should be made directly to the vice president, senator or representative, and it should be made at least a full year in advance of the hoped-for entry date.

Appointments also are made from NROTC units, from Naval and Marine Corps and Reserve units, for sons of Medal of Honor winners and for sons of deceased veterans.

To qualify academically, the Navy suggests as "ideal" the following high school preparatory courses: Four years of English, three (but preferably four) years of mathematics, including algebra, geometry, and trigonometry; chemistry, physics, U. S. history, at least two years of a foreign language and mechanical drawing. Additional useful high school courses are biology, extra foreign languages, philosophy, economics, astronomy, government, physical geography or other social or physical sciences.

The college entrance examination will be both verbal and written. Further information on the tests, dates and location of the testing centers is available free of charge. Write for Bulletin of information, College Entrance Examination Board, Post Office Box 592, Princeton, N. J.

Same Payroll

Midshipmen enrolled at Annapolis receive the same pay as those of the other academies—$115.15 per month. From it the midshipman purchases his uniforms and other clothing; textbooks and equipment; laundry, barber services, etc., and allowance for leaves and moderate expenditures. A ration allowance (of $1.35 per day) also is provided. Midshipmen are expected to live frugally, as are cadets at the other academies.

At Annapolis (as at the other academies) the student rises at 6:15 a.m., breakfasts at 6:45 and then begins his day of study, of drills, of laboratory work and recitation. The academic work is completed at 3 or 4 p.m., when he may engage in athletics or extracurricular activities until meal formation at 6:30 p.m. After dinner he has a brief period of relaxation before he begins his studies. He retires at 10:20 p.m. and has "turn in" for the night.

In his four year college-Naval course, he will study many regular college courses. These will be augmented by such service-required subjects as:

Shipboard orientation, seamanship, fleet tactics, weapons components, Naval history, leadership, underwater systems and digital computers, gunfire control systems, missile systems and ballistic missile trajectory.

Foreign languages taught at the Academy include French, German, Italian, Russian, Portuguese and Spanish.

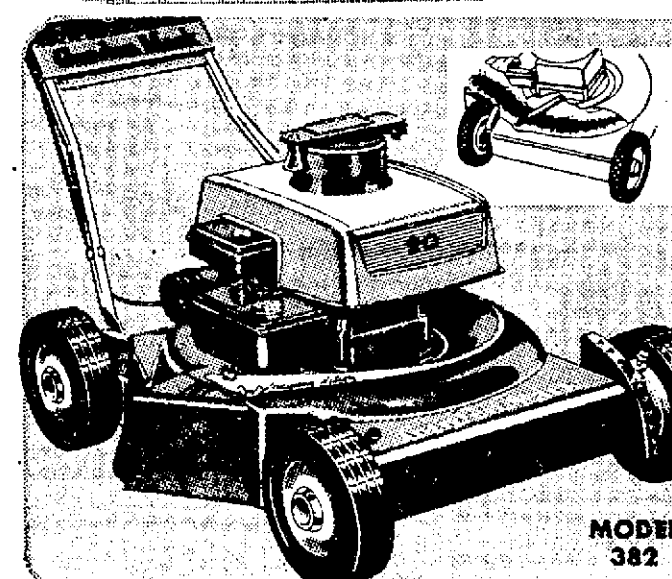

In the Navy as in the other services, education continues throughout the period of service and most officers largely determine their own career patterns through selection of assignments both ashore and afloat, but they must, of course, perform well and ably.

Upon graduation the student earns a B. S. degree and a commission as Ensign in the regular Navy. As is the case at the other academies, he is urged to make the service his career.

Desegregation Moving Slowly in the South

BY DON MCKEE
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Violence climaxed a desegregation drive in Jacksonville, Fla. One person was killed and more than a score were injured. Little more than 350 miles to the west in the same latitude, racial changes have been taking place in Mobile, Ala., for 10 years with little trouble. In Macon, Ga., a white church admitted into membership a Negro student from Ghana. In Jackson, Miss., all efforts at integrating churches have failed. Contradictions like these are evident everywhere in the South.

Complex Problem
Why? The answer is as complex as the problem, which covers the spectrum of society. And each community has its own set of issues and conditions.

Yet some of the more apparent factors which may abet or deter peaceful change include: —Attitudes of government, businesses, churches, integration leaders and segregationists. —Size and nature of the community, whether urban or rural, industrial or agricultural. —Economic conditions. —Percentage of Negroes and their voting power. —Rate and stage of desegregation.

Racial Bars
Much of Georgia's college and university system is desegregated.

Desegregation moves slowly and haphazardly in the south. Its pace and pattern vary from city to city; there is little consistency of white reaction. This is a report on what is happening and why.

regated; racial bars have been lowered in private schools, some theaters, restaurants and hotels, lunch counters and libraries in most major cities.

Change has been made easier by the moderate course of Gov. Carl E. Sanders, elected with the help of the negro vote—about 14 per cent in Georgia.

Desegregation is most difficult in areas of the south where Negroes are a majority of the population.

Eleven school districts in Arkansas are desegregated. Most of them are in Little Rock where federal troops enforced a court decree in 1957.

Delta Area
Little Rock theaters, many downtown lunch counters and restaurants are desegregated. But in the delta area of east Arkansas, where Negroes are heavily concentrated, there are no signs of integration.

In Selma, Ala., where Negroes outnumber white residents, attempts to integrate lunch counters and city facilities have failed. To the North, at Huntsville, where the Negro population is small, a biracial committee is functioning, eight schools and the University Extension Center, public recreational facilities and some motels are desegregated.

Voluntary Basis
Gov. John Connally of Texas said he believed that "The most successful way to integrate is on a voluntary basis." And last summer he worked behind the scenes, meeting with hotel and restaurant owners.

Desegregation has spread to public accommodations in major Texas cities, although east Texas remains largely segregated.

Biracial bargaining, with an attitude of compromise on both sides, has keynoted much of the peaceful desegregation, surveys by The Associated Press have shown.

Game Club Meeting
MANAWA—The Manawa Fish and Game Club will meet 8 p.m. today in the legion room at city hall.

Shakespeare Fest Planned At Lawrence

"A modest celebration" of the quadricentennial of the birth of William Shakespeare has been announced by a planning committee representing Attic Theatre, Lawrence College Theatre, and members of the Lawrence faculty.

The groups plan a public program of readings from the Bard's theatrical and non-dramatic works, interspersed with Elizabethan music, for 8:15 p.m. April 23, in Harper Hall at the Lawrence Music-Drama Center.

Chairmen of the event are Miriam Clapp Duncan, assistant professor of music; Don Jones, director of Attic Theatre; Dr. David Mayer III, assistant professor of theatre and drama; William M. Schutte, professor of English.

The program originated as a private venture, but was opened to the public on demand. It will include Lawrence students and faculty and Attic members in a lightly staged offerings from Romeo and Juliet, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Henry V," "Henry IV, part I," "Richard III," Measure for Measure. Other readings will be taken from the "Sonnets" and "Venus and Adonis."

There is no charge for the event.

Junior, Senior High Conferences Planned At Kimberly Schools

KIMBERLY—Parents of students in the junior and senior high school will have the opportunity to discuss progress of their children with teachers from 2:30 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. in the gym of the junior high school.

Visitation sessions will be held high school and the student commons at the senior high school.

Gambling and Betting Debts Not Collectible by Cronies

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sister's husband was a salesman. Artie knew all kinds of people.

A few days ago Artie dropped dead of a heart attack. The funeral was yesterday. After the funeral several people came by the house to be with my sister and sit around the way they do when a friend passes away.

Two men whom my sister had never seen before took her aside and told her that they had loaned Artie money. One man said he had borrowed $400 when he had gotten over his head in a crap game. The other fellow said he still had $300 coming from the second Lillian-Patterson fight.

My sister was bewildered. She knew very little about her husband's gambling and betting practices. She had never seen these men before and they had nothing in writing. At the moment she's plenty short of cash, but she says if Artie owed her money she wants to pay it. What is your advice?—Trying to Help

Dear Trying: The timing of these birds is interesting. Since they have nothing in writing—and she never saw them before—I'd advise her to ignore the pressure.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 15-year-old daughter complains that we never let her use her own judgment or make her own decisions. She put on a great big sell, pointing out that she must learn from experience how to handle money and be independent.

We agreed to give her $400 on her 15th birthday which was exactly 60 days ago. She was to buy her own clothes, lunches, do whatever she wanted with the money, and six months later she was to get another $400.

Last night she asked for the second $400 now because she doesn't have a dime to her name. I wasn't surprised because I saw the foolish things she did during the first week of the "Plan For Independence." She paid $10 for a set of mink eyelashes and $49.50 for a pair of gold satin lounging pajamas

Should we give her another chance? She says she has learned her lesson and that this next $400 will last six months for sure. Yes or no?—Undecided

Dear Un: If you give this 15-year-old numbskull another $400 you are out of your minds for sure.

What do you mean, another chance? To do what—assist the economy? Make out a budget of her normal expenses and give her exactly that—one week at a time and not a dime more.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our teacher was called out of the room by the principal last Thursday. She put me in charge because I am the class president.

Two of my best friends began to throw erasers and chalk. One eraser hit a girl in the face and knocked off her glasses. The glasses didn't break but the girl is a nervous type and she began to cry. The teacher walked in right in the middle of everything. She asked me for the names of the kids who were out of line. I had to give her the names of my best friends. They lost their privileges for one week and now they're sore at me. They called me a rat and a fink and a lousy stool pigeon.

I feel awful. Did I do right or wrong?—Jerry

Dear Jerry: You did right. It was your responsibility to maintain order. If your friends would not cooperate they deserved to be reported. Moreover, your own honor and integrity were on the line. Real friends can't expect you to use influence to cover up for them when they are out of order. Make no apologies—ever.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1964)

Warm, Delicate, rich and sweet . . . these Fried Jam Tarts are a new experience in texture and flavor for dessert or coffeetime snacks. They can be served warm from the frying pan or reheated in the oven for five minutes before serving.

Jam Rolls Topped with a thin sugar frosting are wonderful specials for Sunday morning breakfast or brunch. They, of course, also go well in miniature in a bread basket at a luncheon or bridge party. The rolls may be made the day before they're used and heated in the oven about five minutes before serving.

Conversation Pieces

... Or How to Make Modern Sweet Talk by Cooking With Preserves

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Want to make a culinary conversation . . . or even build an enviable reputation as a cook? It can be done with a little modern sweet talk that's based on preserves, jellies and jams . . . either singly or in toothsome combination.

Some of the best treats can be put together right at the table for a quick dessert. Others take a few minutes of preparation and a brief stay in oven or frypan to make some of the yummiest of delicacies.

Take a thin slice of pound cake, for example. Pop a spoonful of tart currant jelly on it and it's a dessert that's good . . . or make a dessert of crackers, cream cheese with grape jam or jelly. Try currant jelly or orange marmalade with roast or fried chicken for a superb taste treat that looks as good as it tastes. Instead of the traditional mint jelly with lamb, change the pace and serve a sweet grape jelly.

The recipe in today's collection that takes the longest to prepare is the one for Frosted Jam Rolls. They really are worth every minute of trouble they take . . . besides the simplifical yeast dough recipe is easy to follow and really fun to make.

If you're one of the new cooks who have never made a yeast dough, begin now. You've missed a satisfying experience. It's a most interesting part of cooking and not at all difficult. You'll enjoy kneading the yeasty, elastic dough and then either remember back or realize anew why little girls like patting and shaping mud pies so much.

These rolls follow an easy recipe. The dough rises only once before it's ready to form into rolls. Then roll it into rectangles, spread with a favorite jelly or jam, roll up and slice jelly-roll fashion. Each roll goes into a well-greased muffin tin to rise and bake and when the rolls are in the oven, you'll be wishing for somebody to drop in or the family to come home early . . . the heavenly smell simply is too good not to share.

Actually, these all are recipes to develop a yen for company because each one is a sure-fire success and made for compliments and what we call sweet talk. Besides the hot rolls, there's a recipe for jam tarts, fried to a rich delicate crisp. . . Coconut Macaroon Jam Cake that's a modern adaptation of Viennese pastries. . . and Jelly-Jam Streusel Bars that will win friends and influence people quicker than anything else at all.

FROSTED JAM ROLLS
¾ cup boiling water
¾ cup shortening
¼ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1 package dry yeast
¾ cup hot water
1 egg, beaten
5 cups sifted flour
¼ cup jam preserves, or jelly
Thin confectioner's sugar frosting
Pour boiling water over shortening, sugar and salt. Stir until Coconut Macaroon Jam Cake is reminiscent of the elegant pastries of old Vienna, only this one is easier to make. Starting with ready-made pound cake, layers are cut, then sandwiched together and covered with preserves. A strip of delicious coconut mixture is spread down the top of each sandwich cake. Toasted almonds add their texture and flavor. Baked for a few minutes, the cakes are sliced diagonally for serving. For a birthday treat for a very special person who no longer counts the years precisely, arrange slices alternating light and dark preserves and serve with a single lighted candle for a lovely dessert with an elegant effect.

shortening is melted; cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in hot water (115 degrees); stir egg and yeast into liquids. Blend in flour as needed to make a stiff dough. Turn out on floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; cover and let rise in warm draft-free area until doubled in bulk. Punch down; cut in half. Place on board; cover and let rest 10 minutes.

Roll each piece of dough into a 10 x 16 inch rectangle. Spread jam or jelly over surface of dough to within ½ inch of edge. Roll up jelly roll fashion. Cut into 12 equal slices; place in well-greased muffin pans, (2½ inches in diameter and 1½ Turn to Page 19, Col. 1

Jelly-Jam Streusel Bars such as these can become the beginning of a long and happy family friendship. They are a most delicious combination of brown sugar, butter, rolled oats, preserves and nuts. They are charmingly chewy, excellent travelers for shipping and take to contrasts. Those at the right use light-colored preserves and the bars at the left are made with the darker jams and jellies.

Serra Club Offers Panel On Vocations

The Serra Club presented a panel on religious vocations for the meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America, Court Ave Maria, Monday evening. Mrs. Lee Everts moderated a panel composed of the Rev. Donald Burkhardt, Appleton Apostolate; Brother Lawrence, Xavier High School, Sister Eileen Grace, Xavier High School, and Sister Claudia, St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Miss Sheila Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Martin, will represent Xavier at Badger Girls State. Alternate delegate is Miss Karen Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brown. The Court voted to sponsor these representatives.

Mrs. Robert Rossmessl, grand regent, will serve as delegate to the state Catholic Daughters Convention May 22-23 in Appleton. Mrs. Frank Taylor will serve as alternate.

Social chairmen for the evening were Mrs. John C. Palm-bach, Mrs. Luman Precourt and their committee.

Look for Quality In Syrup

This is the season for making maple syrup, although the delicious liquid is available throughout the year.

If you enjoy buying a supply at the peak of the sap gathering and boiling season, watch for high quality, cautions Louise Archbold, consumer marketing specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

Wisconsin is a heavy maple syrup producer, although not the top one in the nation. Tapped and bucketed trees in the various "sugar bushes" in the Fox and Wolf River areas is an interesting sight as an historical example of a waning pioneer industry.

Buying Guides
For real maple syrup flavor, the helpful buying guides are color, density and clarity of the product, says Miss Archbold. It is not difficult to purchase old-fashioned, excellent maple syrup in Wisconsin.

Other buys for the week include a variety of beef, pork and lamb. Good beef choices are chuck roasts, sirloin steaks and ground meat. Remember that ground meats can vary in leanness. Usually ground beef has a higher fat content than ground chuck or ground round steak.

Top pork buys include center cut chops, loin end roasts, butts, steaks and bacon. There may be a decreasing supply in pork coming to market during April, but processed pork products and butt hams should be plentiful.

In some areas lamb will be attractively priced. However, both lamb and veal supplies may be less than a year ago. Broiler - Fryers and turkeys may be spotlighted in many markets. Watch for declining prices on poultry as supplies increase seasonally.

Easy on Budget

A compact roll of good eating at an easy-on-the-budget price - that's stuffed flank steak. Fill the long, tapering piece of beef with a savory bread crumb mixture, roll it and brown it in hot fat, cover it, then cook it in a small amount of liquid at a lazy pace until the meat is fork tender.

Miss Moder Feted at Party

HORTONVILLE — Miss Lola Moder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rock Moder, 603 Nash St., was honored at a bridal shower at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lorien Young, Co - hostesses were Miss Geraldine Moder, Mrs. Marvin Besaw, and Mrs. Gene Kaddatz.

Miss Moder will become the bride of Merlin Miller, Medina, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Van-Heuklon, 527 N. Badger Ave., Appleton, Saturday at Community Baptist Church.

Set Friday Dance

The Friendly Square Dance Club will dance at 8 p.m. Friday at the 41 Bowl. Wilbert Sweet will call.

Recently elected club officers will serve as hosts. Mr. and Mrs. Duane Glaser are presidents and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson, secretaries.

Artificial Bids Can Backfire

Artificial bids, those that say one thing but mean another, have great value but also have their weaknesses. One danger is that an opponent can safely double the artificial bid to indicate a favorable opening lead.

North's response of two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asks South to show a major suit if he can. If South has a major suit, North intends to raise; and if South has no major suit, North intends to bid two spades at his second turn.

In today's hand, taken from the recent national tournament, North didn't need an artificial bid of two clubs to get to a spade contract; he could have bid spades himself. From North's point of view, it was possible that South had four hearts and only two or three spades. If so, hearts would be a better trump suit than spades.

Wide Awake
South would make four spades if his opponents were asleep. If

Mrs. Hendricks Elected President Of VFW Auxiliary

Mrs. Richard Hendricks was elected president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Tuesday evening at the VFW Clubhouse. Other new officers are Mrs. John Steenis, senior vice-president; Mrs. Robert Johnson, junior vice-president, and Mrs. Robert Volkman, treasurer.

Serving as chaplain will be Mrs. Walter Vandertie. Conductress is Mrs. Jerome Schilhabel; guard, Mrs. Anna Kasten, and trustee, Mrs. Leroy Ruwoldt.

Reports Given
Committees reporting were Mrs. Fred Peske, sunshine and rehabilitation; Mrs. John Steenis, ways and means; Mrs. Richard Hendricks, poppy and membership, and Mrs. Jerome Schilhabel, community services.

Other reports were given by Mrs. Donald Manier, kitchen; Mrs. Eugene Hoffman, cancer; Mrs. Frank Koch, hospital, and Mrs. Agnes Besau, boys in service.

Mrs. Gerald Lynch reported on the Wisconsin Cottage; Mrs. Lee Thompson, good citizenship; Mrs. Harry Rasmussen, senior citizen, and Mrs. Paul Volpe Jr., youth activities.

Make Donations
The group voted a donation to Alaskan Relief and the department hospital for Easter cheer. Mrs. John Steenis will be chairman of the booth at the Good Neighbor Fair May 9 at Valley Fair.

A dinner dance is planned on Loyalty Day, May 2, at the clubhouse. The Auxiliary district meeting is scheduled May 17 at De Pere.

Mrs. Donald Manier, Mrs. Marinus Van Weeke and Mrs. Julius Boggess were luncheon chairmen.

Red Carpet Given Apartment Tenants
Well-scrubbed kitchens and bathrooms constitute the modern version of red carpet treatment for new apartment tenants.

One metropolitan building management employs six special cleaners to wield the detergent suds, so everything will be spotless when tenants arrive. Even the floors throughout these buildings are cleaned and dust-proofed so that movers won't track up the place.

This is also a good principle to follow when preparing to move into a private home.

The Ailing House Flush Tank To Clear Rusty Water

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: Our hot water is commencing to run rusty. How can we remove rust sediment from the hot water tank?

A: If the rusty water is due to rust sediment at the bottom of the tank, this can be removed by closing the shutoff valve and leaving the drain cock open. The supply pressure will drive water through the upper pipe and coil with sufficient force to flush out most loose sediment that may have accumulated. Sediment should be drawn from the bottom of the tank about once a month, by running off several pails of water. If water drains out clear, this interval can be greatly lengthened.

Q: The wax on my hardwood floors becomes very streaky-looking. I use an electric buffer on top quality paste wax, but get this result after a while. How can I correct this streaking?

A: The streaking may be due to applying the wax too often or applying it in too thick a coat, so that there is a heavy accumulation on the floor surface. Usually, complete rewaxing should be done only once or twice a year, except in heavy traffic. When worn areas are rewaxed, buff up the rest of the floor. Apply a thin, even coat of wax, allowing it to dry for about a half hour, then buffing well. Self-polishing wax doesn't need buffing. Many large, nationally known floor wax manufacturers have booklets available on the proper use of wax on floors. These are available at some hardware, housewares and wax dealers, or from the manufacturer.

Today's Etiquette

NO FLOWERS PLEASE

Dear Louise: I would like your opinion of a custom prevalent in this area. Often when a person of some prominence dies, the family includes in the death notice: "No flowers, please. Send donations to the charity of your choice (or some stipulated fund or organization)." I may be old fashioned, but this seems to be in very poor taste. Surely it would be enough to ask that no flowers be sent.

Louise Davis Answers: Similar wording in a death notice is prevalent throughout the country. It is not considered in poor taste. Such a condensed notice in a newspaper's classified ad means, "If friends are considering flowers, would they please contribute instead to a philanthropic or civic fund." A fund in which the deceased was interested is oftentimes mentioned as a specific suggestion. Those making such a request realize that many lives may be saved in this way. Furthermore, they may have an aversion to many flowers at a funeral. I don't think you're old fashioned. I just think you have misinterpreted the wording in death notices. Local and national funds, such as heart, cancer, diabetes, muscular dystrophy, benefit greatly from these contributions. They are all memorials to the deceased, deeply appreci-

Florida Setting for Honeymoon

KIMBERLY—St. John Catholic Church, Little Chute, was the setting at 10 a.m. today for the wedding of Miss Marilyn M. Mitchler and Gerald N. Vander Pas. The Rev. James Feeley officiated at the double ring rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John P. Mitchler, 328 S. Ann St., and the late Mr. Mitchler. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Vander Pas, 521 Taylor St., Little Chute, are parents of the bridegroom.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, John Mitchler, the bride chose her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Mitchler, as matron of honor. Mrs. Lawrence Vander Pas was bridesmaid.

Acting as best man was Lawrence Vander Pas. Thomas Kinard was groomsmen. Ushering duties were fulfilled by Wayne Vander Pas and James Zielinski.

A reception took place at the Darboy Club. Mrs. Vander Pas is employed at Aid Association for Lutherans. Her husband is employed at Combined Locks Paper Co. The couple will honeymoon in Florida and reside in Little Chute.

Constantine, Princess to Wed Sept. 18

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Constantine announced today that he will marry Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark on Sept. 18.

The 23-year-old monarch, who succeeded to the throne March 6 on the death of his father, King Paul, told a news conference the wedding would take place in Athens. It will follow a six-month mourning period for Paul.

Anne-Marie will be 18 on Aug. 30.

Constantine and the Danish princess have been engaged since January 1963 and before his father's death planned to marry next January. But with his accession to the throne and because of his youth, court circles felt a royal wedding would strengthen his position.

inch deep). Repeat. Cover and let double in size. Bake at 350 degrees, 13 to 15 minutes, until lightly browned. Serve plain or drizzle frosting over hot rolls. Recipe makes two dozen rolls.

THIN CONFECTIONER'S FROSTING

1½ cups confectioner's sugar sifted
1½ tablespoon hot milk or water
¾ teaspoon vanilla

COCONUT MACAROON JAM CAKE

1 baked unfrosted pound cake
1 jar (12 ounce) jam or preserves
¼ cup toasted sliced almonds
1 can (3½ ounce) flaked coconut
½ cup sweetened condensed milk
Slice off top of cake to make 1½ inch level. Cut cake into four even layers. Place two stacks of two cake slices each on baking sheet. Put two slices of cake together sandwich fashion using ¼ cup preserves for each slice. Repeat with second set of cake slices.

Spread sides of each cake sandwich with preserves using two tablespoons preserves for each sandwich; cover preserves with toasted almonds.

Combine coconut and condensed milk and spread mixture in two lengthwise strips along outer edges of each loaf. Spoon remaining preserves down center of each loaf between coconut. Bake in 350-degree oven until coconut is lightly browned, about 12 minutes. Cool. Cut diagonally into slices. Recipe makes 16 slices.

Note: Use almost any preserve or jam you like, but for the most decorative effect, make one two-layer cake with dark-colored preserves such as raspberry, strawberry, grape, or plum, and the other with light preserves such as apricot, peach or orange marmalade.

FRIED JELLY OR JAM TARTS

1 package (9½ ounce) prepared pie crust mix (or any favorite home recipe made with 1½ cups flour)
Assorted jams, preserves or jellies (raspberry, strawberry, peach, apricot, pineapple preserves; apple butter; grape, currant or apple jelly)

1½ pints cooking or salad oil
Confectioner's sugar
Prepare pie crust mix as directed on package label; cut dough into two equal portions. Roll dough on lightly floured surface to ¼ inch thickness. Cut into large rounds using a 3½ inch cookie cutter or use a cardboard pattern 3½ inches in diameter and cut around it.

Spoon two teaspoons jam, jelly or preserves to one side of center on each pastry round. Moisten edges of crust with cold water, fold dough in half to make a half circle; press edges together firmly using tines of a dinner fork.

Fry pies in hot oil (370 to 375 degrees) in electric fry pan four to five at a time until lightly browned on underside; turn and fry until second side is lightly browned. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve warm. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar just before serving. Recipe makes from 16 to 20 pies.

NOTE: Pies can be fried ahead of time and warmed in a moderate oven (375 degrees) about five minutes. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar just before serving.

JELLY-JAM STREUSEL BARS

1½ cups sifted flour
1 cup brown sugar (firmly packed)
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup butter or margarine
2 cups rolled oats, uncooked
1½ cups jelly, jam or preserves
½ cup chopped pecans
Combine flour, brown sugar and salt. Cut in butter or margarine with pastry blender until mixture is crumbly. Stir in oats. Save 1½ cups of crumb mixture for topping. Press remaining mixture evenly over bottom of oblong baking pan. Spread jelly, jam or preserves over crumbs and top with pecans and remaining crumb mixture; press down lightly. Bake in 375-degree oven until lightly browned, about 25 minutes. Cool. Cut into bars three inches long and one inch wide. Recipe makes about 36 bars.

Lawrence Professor To Attend Detroit Music Convention

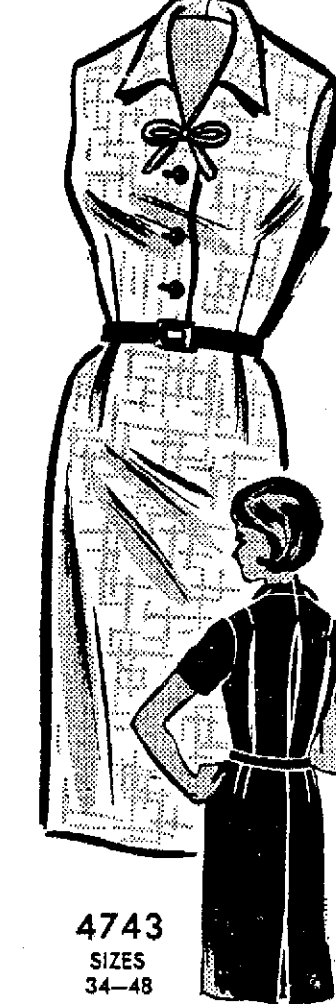

James Ming, Lawrence College professor of music, will take an active part in the national convention of the American Musicological Society April 16-20 in Detroit.

Ming will appear before the convention to read his paper "Poetic Imagery and the Composer." He will also be honored with a performance of his "Three Poems of Archibald MacLeish," to be sung by the Wayne State University Singers, Harry Langford, conductor.

The three choral pieces were written in France from 1960-62. They were first performed here by the Lawrence Concert Choir, LaVahn Maesch, conductor, on concerts in 1962-63.

Last November the pieces were heard at a University Composers' Exchange Meeting, also in Detroit. They were sung again in December at the Donnell Library Center, New York City, under the auspices of the National Association for American Composers and Conductors.

Wallace Visit Ups Tempo in Indiana

Alabama Governor Draws Denunciation From State's Chief Executive on Bombing

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Last week in Wisconsin he polled 260,000 votes, about 25 per cent of the total cast in the Democratic presidential primary. His third campaign will be in Maryland.

Wallace came to Indiana Wednesday, one day after having placed fourth among nine write-in candidates in Illinois. He polled more than 4,500 votes on both Democratic and Republican ballots there.

Welsh, who entered the presidential primary only to claim Hoosier delegates' votes for President Johnson, quickly said he was "not interested" in an invitation from Wallace to debate.

The usually mild-mannered Welsh said in a statement, "This is the man whose beliefs were responsible for the deaths of innocent children in the bombing of a Sunday School class."

Outside a chemistry lecture hall where Wallace answered Butler University students' questions, another group of students picketed with signs like "no racism in Indiana."

"I'm not a racist," Wallace told the applauding students inside. "A racist is one who hates another person in his heart because of his color. I would not be a segregationist president. I would be a state and local rights president."

Students Asked

The student audience, asked to choose between the policies of the governors in a mock primary, voted for Wallace over Welsh, 70-55.

Indiana flew back to Alabama Wednesday night after saying he'll consider it a victory "if I get any votes at all." He said he'll be back for more campaign appearances, but he set no dates.

Indiana convention delegates are bound to cast their first-ballot vote for the presidential primary winner.

In the Republican primary, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona will make only one appearance next Monday, piped into a statewide television network out of Indianapolis. His only major opponent, Harold E. Stassen, will appear on the Butler campus Friday.

Write-in votes are not permitted in Indiana.

Statement by Methodists Is Under Study

Protestant Leaders Seek Way to Unite Six Major Churches

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Protestant church leaders sifted through a strongly worded Methodist statement today for clues to the future of a movement to unite six major churches embracing 21 million members.

A Methodist commission attending the third annual Consultation on Christian Union issued a statement Wednesday saying there were many theological and social questions that would take a long time to resolve.

Common Mind

"Although one must never overlook the possibility of the intervention of the Holy Spirit to bring men to a common mind," the statement said, "it is difficult at this time to judge that a plan of union of the churches is feasible during the coming quadrennium (a four-year period)."

The statement emphasized, however, that this must not be construed as closing the door to ultimate unity. A spokesman said the statement was drafted some time ago, but essentially still holds.

Methodist Bishop Glenn Phillips of Denver, Colo., had said Tuesday that union of the six denominations may take as long as 20 or 30 years to be realized.

General Plan

In a companion development, a spokesman for the Protestant Episcopal Church said he did not expect his church's governing body to initiate a general plan of union when it meets later this year.

The Methodists and Episcopalians have been meeting intermittently for three years with delegates of the United Presbyterian Church, United Church of Christ and the Disciples of Christ and Evangelical United Brethren Churches.

Spokesmen for the other denominations did not comment immediately on the Methodist statement.

Police Combing Park for Gun Used in Killing

Body of Young Physicist Found In Clump of Bushes

NEW YORK (AP)—Police and a U. S. Army unit used mine detectors and magnetic tools in Central Park seeking the gun used in the slaying of a brilliant young Columbia University nuclear physicist.

The body of 31-year-old Charles Gallagher Jr. was found in a clump of bushes in the park shortly after dawn yesterday. He had been shot once, through the heart.

Last night a three-man contingent of the Army's 66th Ordnance Detachment from Bellmore, N. Y., began covering the area of the slaying with mine detectors.

Lake Drugged

At the same time, police drugged the nearby 72nd Street Lake with magnetic tools in hopes of turning up the weapon.

There were no signs of a struggle at the spot where Gallagher's body was found, and no evidence of robbery. Gallagher had left his wallet at home, as he often did. He still wore his wrist watch, and in his trouser pockets were some small change and his car keys. The victim's car was found in a Central Park lot at 79th Street near where he was shot. His body was found by a stroller.

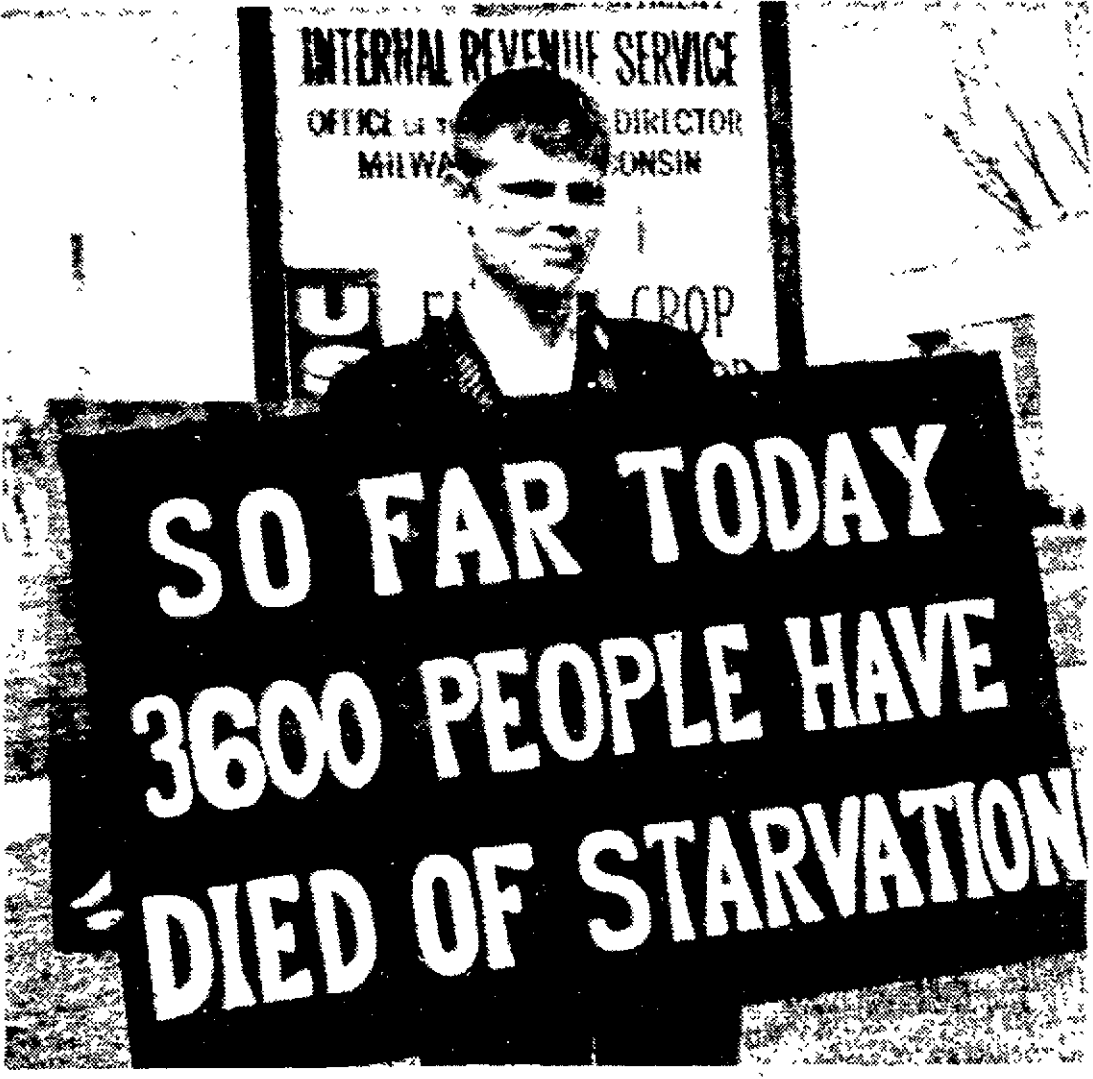

Police Inspector Thomas C. Renaghan said Gallagher returned three weeks ago from a lecture tour in Russia, and previously had given lectures in several other foreign countries.

Research Worker

Gallagher did research work at Brookhaven National Laboratory, an atomic energy center on Long Island. Officials there said his work was in an area in which this country exchanges information with Soviet Russia.

Nevertheless, Renaghan said, police have turned over to the FBI information concerning Gallagher's 10-day stay in Russia.

Earlier the FBI said there was no evidence of any federal violation in Gallagher's slaying and, therefore, the FBI was not taking part in the investigation.

Ken Knudson, University of Wisconsin student from Madison, protested payment of federal income taxes Wednesday—the last day for filing returns. He carried a sign as he paced in front of the tax office in Madison and said part of his protest would be to fast until midnight. Knudson said he won't pay a $50 tax he owes as a protest to government use of his money, particularly for defense. He said he favors more money for humane and welfare work. (AP Wirephoto)

Johnson Likes to Make Some Trips in Privacy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Presidential motorcade to the hotel. The reporters planned to leave with Johnson and follow him, not so much because they wanted to know where he was going but to be on hand in case his car should have a flat tire, a wreck or other misfortune.

Accident Possible

After all, should the President have an accident on the highway, a White House reporter might be hard pressed to explain why he wasn't on the scene.

Well, the Secret Service, acting on Johnson's instructions, solved the problem of the limousine from the Fourth Estate. They ordered two Washington policemen to park their motorcycles so close to the front bumper of the press car that it couldn't join the cavalcade.

Johnson took off for parts unknown, free of pursuit, with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark, old friends from Austin, Tex. Clark is an attorney.

Dr. Herman A. Wendel told today of a pill which has worked successfully to prevent influenza. He described experiments by chemists of the E. I. duPont Company using amantadine hydrochloride on a group of volunteer prison inmates. It appeared to be 75 per cent effective. (AP Wirephoto)

Bound, Gagged Girl Dials O With Big Toe

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A baby sitter dialed O with her big toe and reported an attempted robbery Wednesday after she had been left bound to a bed post and gagged.

Mary Gibson, 21, said a man ransacked the house. When he left, she pulled the telephone to her side with her feet, kicked the receiver off the hook and dialed the operator with her toe.

The operator understood her mumbblings and summoned police.

A check of the house showed nothing missing.

Gallagher Mrs. Gallagher

Gallagher left his home near the university at 8 p.m. Tuesday, telling his wife, Kristin, he would be home late.

Mrs. Gallagher said she did not become worried about her husband Tuesday night because he often slept on a cot at the university while he was on a particular project, yesterday morning, however, she called police to report her husband missing. Police said she called just as they were trying to reach her, having traced ownership of the car.

Review of Wisconsin's County Government by Legislature Seems Sure

Creation of Commission for Study Approved in Both Houses

AP-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—A legislative review of the adequacy of county government representation arrangements has apparently been assured for the guidance of the 1965 session which convenes in January.

Both houses of the legislature approved the study after hesitation that reflected the skepticism of rural district members toward proposals for county government change.

A representative committee of citizens and law-makers, including spokesmen for the various kinds of local governments, will be chosen for the review when the Legislative Council makes selections soon. Assembly Speaker Robert Haase said the appointments and the authorization for the study will be made before the present legislature adjourns.

Group Chairman

Among the men to be considered for the chairmanship of the study group are Assemblymen Steiger of Oshkosh, Martin of Menasha and Froelich of Appleton, Republican sponsors of the enabling legislation.

The idea of reorganizing county boards has been offered before in the legislature without significant backing among elected law-makers.

In recent months the plan has been picked up support in the populous counties of eastern Wisconsin.

A legislative resolution setting up the study directs the group to devise plans for population representation districts in counties, although rural members insisted such plans should be considered in conjunction with municipalities as political units and geographical areas.

Help Sought in Determining Sex Of Hedgehogs

LONDON (AP)—The Henry Doubleday Association appealed today for help in determining the sex of hedgehogs.

The association is a charitable group which seeks nonchemical ways to control pests. It wants to put 1,000 pairs of hedgehogs to breed in walled gardens to control slugs.

"But although hedgehogs are plentiful, we can't tell he from she," said Lawrence D. Hills, the association's secretary. He explained that as soon as a hedgehog is caught, it rolls up into a ball.

"The only thing that can tell a female hedgehog is a male hedgehog," said Edmund Hallam, an authority on British mammals.

Added Water Line Expected to Boost Industrial Growth

$12,000 Expenditure for 12-Inch Main Feeder OK'd by Aldermen

Installation of a 12-inch feeder main to supply additional water to Appleton's industrial park is expected to trigger a wave of local industrial expansion projects, it was learned today.

The common council approved a $12,000 expenditure for the water main Wednesday night and was told at least one local industry is planning to build a new plant in the park.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell first contacted the firm several months ago when it was rumored it might relocate outside of Appleton. After conferences with officials, Mitchell said there appeared to be "serious interest" in building a new plant in the industrial park.

No major industry has built in the park since it was created a few years ago. However, some companies have purchased land in the industrial area.

Consider Expansion

City officials have heard that three local firms are considering expansion projects this summer. Two would be the result of one company relocating in the industrial park.

Ald. Al Fischer (14th) wanted to know why it was necessary to spend the $27,000 and whether new streets would have to be cut up. He was informed there are water mains in the park but the 12-inch main will boost pressure, and gravelled, not paved, streets would be affected by the project.

The firms considering expansions will not make any announcements until top officials have given final okay to building.

On a related subject, the Appleton Wire Works sent a letter to the council requesting re-

Foremost Says Competition Causing Economy Move

Spokesmen for the industrial division of Foremost Dairies, Inc., said today a program of centralization will enter a new phase soon. As a result, 13 fewer persons will be employed at Western Condensing Company in Appleton, a division of Foremost.

As various administrative, supervisory and engineering responsibilities are transferred to Burlingame, Calif., offices, positions will be terminated in Appleton, headquarters for the firm's north central region.

Foremost management said the company regrets the necessity of reducing its Appleton work force, but feels competition in the industry requires economies wherever possible.

The industrial division was formed in 1961 when Foremost brought together various related operations, including several in Wisconsin. The company's facilities in the state are comprised primarily of those obtained in 1956 when Foremost acquired the Western Condensing Company.

Boy Hit by Car Near Home Today

Anthony Van Gompel, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Van Gompel, Prospect Street, Combined Locks, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by Larry's Ambulance this morning after he was struck by a car near his home.

The boy received fractures and cuts. The accident occurred about 10:55 a.m. He was reported in satisfactory condition at noon, and X-rays were being taken.

Firemen put out a fire in a cushion of a car parked on W. College Avenue Wednesday which they believe was started when a passerby threw a cigarette through an open window. The car is owned by George Delaware, Madison.

Firemen were called Tuesday to 1513 W. Henry St., the home of Ervin Kirk, where sparks from a trash burner had started a fire on a wood pile in the backyard.

Retiring Aldermen Give 'Farewells'

Clerk Administers Office Oath to Four Appleton Council Members

Appleton's common council will have four new members when it begins its 1964-65 legislative year at the annual organizational meeting next Wednesday night.

Following Wednesday night's council meeting, City Clerk Elden Broehm administered the oath of office to four aldermen elected in the April 7 election.

During an informal session, the council later reviewed and adopted rules to govern its deliberations for the coming year. Three retiring aldermen, George F. Buckley, Douglas Ogilvie and James Bayorgeon, used the last 1963-64 meeting to give brief farewell talks.

New Aldermen

New aldermen are: Roy Pointer, 943 E. Frances St., a former councilman, 14th Ward; John F. Ayers, 824 E. Hancock St., 12th Ward; Orville Strutz, 733 E. Grant St., 17th Ward; and Norman Beyer, 1722 W. Spring St., 20th Ward.

Before oaths were administered, Mayor Clarence Mitchell appointed a special board to canvass last week's vote totals. It set the stage for Robert Rougeau, defeated by six votes in his bid for 12th Ward supervisor, to request a recount.

The law says the official request for a recount must be made within three days after the vote canvass. Rougeau, a supermarket owner, has said he will.

Buckley, defeated by 1,202 votes in his race for mayor congratulated Mitchell and other victors in the citywide election.

Buckley "Not Better"

"There were many rumors started in different parts of Appleton against my family and me, but one that I must particularly quiet here tonight is the fabrication that I am bitter against certain members of this council who supported my opponent," Buckley said. "This is not true."

He said people were entitled to work for any candidate and that he was not bitter against anyone. "In fact, there is not a single person in this room whom I dislike," Buckley said.

Buckley said he enjoyed working with fellow aldermen, department heads and other city employees. "I remind you, the destiny of our city is in your hands — guard it well," Buckley said.

Ogilvie, who served several years as 12th Ward alderman and decided not to actively seek re-election although his name was on the ballot, thanked the council and others for cooperation given him and introduced his successor, pledging him support. "The city is really making progress," Ogilvie said, "and it has a great future."

Supervisors Rap Reynolds' Statements on County Patrol

Outagamie Officials Agree More Men Assigned to Cars Would Help

Institute for Science Teachers Planned by Lawrence College Staff

Lawrence College has received a $6,580 National Science Foundation grant to support an in-service institute in general science for elementary school teachers next fall.

A maximum of 30 teachers will be accepted for the evening institute, set up as a result of conferences between Appleton public school administrators and Lawrence scientists. It will be open to public and parochial school teachers.

Teaching the program will be Dr. Robert Rosenberg, chemistry; Dr. W. Paul Gilbert, physics; Dr. William F. Read, geology; and Dr. Sumner Richman, biology.

The program is similar to an institute for high school teachers at Lawrence several years ago, which also was subsidized by the Foundation.

County supervisors who have the task of dictating policy under which the county's traffic patrol operates, today opposed statements by Gov. John Reynolds which termed the state's county traffic patrols "lousy."

At the same time, supervisors agreed the present Outagamie County traffic patrol may become more efficient if more men are assigned to the patrol, and if a limit on personal patrol miles is lifted.

Meanwhile, a former executive of the state patrol, Appleton Police Chief E. O. Wolff who was assigned to the patrol's Madison headquarters two years ago, said state traffic patrolmen "were less tolerant" in making arrests.

Supv. Patrick Heenen, chairman of the county's traffic committee, said he opposed the manner in which Reynolds "hoped to bring about a merger of the two systems." He said if any changes are to be made he hoped it would be done differently.

Reynolds has supported a program which would call for the merger of the county patrols with the state patrols. The program has met with heavy opposition by counties.

Last week in Milwaukee, Reynolds blasted "most" county patrols which he said were less efficient than State Patrols because state patrols made more arrests.

Letters of protest from local law enforcement officials and state professional police groups have protested Reynolds' statements and have called for formal apologies.

High Accident Rate Wolff said State patrolmen are assigned in areas where records show a high accident incident rate. He said that most state patrolmen are on duty on the Interstate system where a 24-hour patrol has been maintained. In other areas, state patrols do not normally work a 24-hour patrol.

In Outagamie County last year, the State Patrol made 1,235 arrests as compared to 1,235 arrests as compared to

$100,000 Addition to Giddings and Lewis at Kaukauna Announced

25 New Jobs May be Provided in Lincoln Avenue Plant Extension

KAUKAUNA — A building permit has been issued the Kaukauna division of the Giddings and Lewis Machine Tool Co. to construct a $100,000 addition to its plant on Lincoln Avenue.

The new structure is an extension of the machine shop and will be a single story building, 79 by 139 feet of concrete block and steel construction with aluminum facing on the side toward County Trunk 00. Considerable use will be made of glass block windows and truck entrances will open into the building.

If business continues, the building may result in job openings for about 25 more men by the end of the year, company officials say. General contractor is Hedrich Construction, Chilton, and architects are Sandstedt, Knoop and Yarbrow, Oshkosh.

Building Interior

The building will house down-draft spray painting equipment with heaters above the trusses to replace exhausted air with fresh, warm air. A 15-ton crane will be in the high bay portion of the structure and a five-ton crane will be in the low bay area.

Purpose of the addition is to provide additional assembly area. Approximately 11,200 square feet of assembly floor space will be added by the building, almost doubling the area available in 1960.

Giddings and Lewis has shown steady growth in Kaukauna and the new building will be the third addition since 1957. About 30,000 square feet of machine shop space has been added since 1960, two distinctly new products have been developed and many other machine - tool industry products upgraded, officials said.

Employment in 1961 was listed at 109 in the machine shop compared to 132 at the present time. Overall employment including, office, foundry, sales and other departments has increased from 258 in 1961 to 317 in 1964.

Candidate Cost Hit $5,381 in April 7 Vote

Appleton Mayor Race Was Most Expensive Listed

Candidates for city and county offices in the April 7 election spent $5,381.28 on their campaigns, according to statements filed with the city clerk's office.

The mayoral candidates led the spending with Mayor Clarence Mitchell's re-election bid costing $2,098.44 and George Buckley, his opponent, costing $1,348.74.

Mitchell defeated Buckley by more than 1,000 votes and received 53.8 per cent of the total vote cast in the race for the mayor's job which pays $12,000 this year and $13,000 in 1965.

Mitchell said he spent $1,050 of his own funds and the Mitchell for Mayor Committee reported spending $2,098.44.

The Committee for Ald. Buckley for Mayor spent $604.80 and the Advertising Committee for Buckley had expenses of $743.94. The committees received their funds from Buckley.

Assessor John A. Pierre, elected to his eleventh term, had expenses of $123.45 and his opponent, Austin Tucker, spent $143.76. The Tucker for Assessor Committee had expenses of $189.96.

City Atty. Frederick Froehlich, unopposed, listed no expense.

City Clerk Elden Broehm, unopposed for re-election, reported no expense.

City Treasurer Ray Feuerstein, also unopposed, listed $10 in expenses.

School Board

Three of the five candidates for two school board posts had no expenses, including Martin Downs, Kenneth Sager and Victor Sumnicht. Dr. M. K. Giese spent $122.55 and Mrs. Helen Heil, $7. Sumnicht and Sager were victors.

Expenses reported by candidates for common council follow: Derald Ahrens, $48.18; Gerald Arens, $36.05; Al Stoegebauer, none; Charles Kunitz, none; Fred Ziemann, $22.30; R. P. Groh, none; James Eril, $60.01; Citizens Committee for Ertl, $50; Harold Hannemann, $61.58; John Ayers, $59.22; Harold Douglas, none; Ray Emerich, $24; John Hoerning, $11.64; Roy Pointer, $47.44; Lawrence Meltz, $67; Meltz for Alderman Committee, nothing; Reginald Reinke, $36.05; Douglas Ogilvie, none; Clifford Radder, $92.80; Carl Sankowsky, $99.79; Donald L. Krabbe, $59.87; Orville Strutz, $8; Lawrence Thomas, $35; Gerald Wagner, none; Norman Beyer, $27.08; Walter Bogan, $22.75; and Desmond Schade, $31.50.

Expense statements filed by supervisor candidates: Andrew Jimos, $6.70; Eugene Kloes, none; Patrick J. Heenan, none; John W. Nissen, $13.44; Adam C. Remley, none; Glenn Pelton, $93.69; Robert Rougeau, $108.30; Waldemar Klein, none; Theodore Jens, $11.60; Sylvester Esler, none; Harold Haak, $40; N. Widening Project Delayed

On two key votes, the council Wednesday night gave the go-ahead to major street improvement projects, including the long-planned widening of the Prospect Avenue - Memorial Drive intersection.

Honoring a request of Ald. R. P. Groh (8th), in whose ward the projects are scheduled, the council referred back to committee a resolution which would have established special assessment rates for the intersection work.

Aldermen also heard Public Works Director Robert W. Bues warn that any delay in obtaining property needed for intersection and street widening might result in the loss of 85 per cent state and federal aids allocated to the South Memorial Drive and intersection reconstruction.

Reports Back

Three different reports received by the council recommended that street improvements proceed as scheduled, starting in mid-June. Groh opposed the intersection project and special assessment to property owners at a board of public works meeting earlier in the week.

Total cost of the Badger Avenue, South Memorial Drive and intersection widening will be $450,000 with the city's share $99,000, plus the cost of some small pieces of property.

The council approved, 11-6, the city plan commission recommendation to negotiate for acquisition of parcels of land for the intersection renovation.

City-hired appraisers put the following market values on the parcels:

Southeast corner, a 157 by 43 foot triangle owned by Harold Mares (the old Pierce property), $8,000 plus $100 for an easement; northwest corner, John P. Schipley, 133 square feet, $600; southwest, a triangle owned by Louise Sawall, 133 square feet, $500; northeast corner, William Christenson owner, 348 square feet, $1,500.

Condemnation Set Should owners decline the city's offering price, condemnation proceedings will be instituted. Deadline for acceptance is April 24.

The city has offered to pay for new sidewalks on South Memorial Drive, including the intersection area, at a cost of $20,000. This stipulation was contained in the board of public works report, covering the area from Lawrence Street to the bridge.

Installation of new sewer and water laterals on Memorial Drive from Lawrence Street to the Fox River met with council approval.

As per the recommendation of the street-sanitation committee,

Board of Education Approves Creating Post as Halftime Job

The position of music supervisor for Appleton public schools will be established next fall.

The Appleton Board of Education Monday approved creating the new position, recommended by Supt. of Schools Royce Kurtz.

Kurtz said the position will be half time at present, but eventually will become full time. He said he will recommend someone now on the teaching staff to fill the new job.

Because of an extensive music program from kindergarten through senior high school, zoning of certain property which may be considered for future expansion.

Over the objection of Ald. Fischer, the council also approved $10,200 payment to the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. to relocate gas mains on State and Packard Streets where storm sewer construction and the Franklin-Washington extension is planned this summer.

"I don't think we owe the gas company a dime," Fischer said, and asked for an explanation.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell advised Fischer to check in advance with the committee and department heads when he lacked information.

Ald. Clifford Radder (16th), chairman at the last street-sanitation committee meeting, said gas mains had to be relocated because of major storm sewer construction to eliminate residential flooding.

"Need For Sewer" "There was a need for this storm sewer long before you and I got on the council," Ald. Kenneth Loos (3rd), committee chairman, told Fischer.

"We have been working on this project for five years and you can preach all night but you won't stop this project," Loos added.

Fischer said he was interested in saving tax dollars, and Mitchell countered, "There are others in the room also interested, maybe more so."

Because of a technicality in the wording of recommendations, a plan to have the city provide bi-weekly trash collection service was referred back to committee and will be acted on at the next meeting.

Fischer said he did not have enough information on the additional costs involved, and inquired whether private firms could provide a cheaper stepped up collection service.

Pound Entered, 35 Dogs Released Police Believe

Outagamie County Sheriff authorities said there was evidence that someone had entered the Outagamie County Humane Society dog pound near Mackville and released 35 dogs Monday night or early Tuesday morning.

Sheriff Lt. Jack Zuelzke said an investigation at the pound showed that locks had been tripped which released the dogs from their individual pens. Entry may have been made by breaking a window.

County police and humane society personnel rounded up the dogs. One dog, a collie, was killed as it crossed Quarry Road.

It was believed earlier that wind had blown the doors of the pound open releasing the dogs. Zuelzke said there was nothing missing from the pound.

The society has offered a reward for information leading to the arrest of the violators.

Indian Bonds Post Big Question for Reynolds

Governor Must Decide if State Board Should Invest in Menominee Holdings

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Gov. John W. Reynolds faces the difficult job of deciding whether the State Investment Board should be required to buy $3 million worth of bonds of Menominee Enterprises, Inc., held by individual Indian members of the corporation.

Both houses of the legislature have approved a measure, sponsored by Assemblyman Theodore Abrahamson of Shawano and Menominee counties, which the governor had opposed earlier.

The State Senate vote on the concurrence of the assembly measure was unanimous.

Original Action

The assembly's original action came last fall, when Gov. Reynolds persuaded the senate to sidetrack the measure in favor of a $1 million loan fund for needy Menominee bondholders who wanted to use their securities in the community corporation as collateral.

The loan legislation was written into law and about half of the fund has thus far been used to extend credit to Indians who would otherwise be on public assistance rolls, according to state officials.

Under the Abrahamson proposal Indians would not face a needs test. Abrahamson argues it would be used mostly to help those bond holders who are self-supporting, but who want to improve their homes or make other expenditures that would expand the tax base of the community and improve its economy.

The state investment board earlier declined to buy the bonds on its own motion, explaining that it could not do so in good faith because of the uncertain value of the securities. The board's reserves for investment represent the pension accounts of thousands of state and local government employees.

Rural Neenah Farmer Leaves Widow, Heirs $76,647 Total Estate

OSHKOSH — Four daughters, two sons and three grandchildren share in the estate of a Town of Neenah farmer who died April 20, 1963.

Chris Nielsen, route 1, Neenah, left a net estate of $76,647, according to tax notices filed with Winnebago County Judge Herbert J. Mueller.

One-third of the estate, which consisted primarily of the 10-acre farm, had been left to his widow, Cora, who died last month. The rest was to be divided among the remaining heirs.

Elmer Pierce, vice-president and secretary of the Castle-Pierce Printing Co., Oshkosh, left an estate of $150,264, according to the inventory and tax notices filed Wednesday. The entire estate will go to his widow, Margaret. He died Jan. 28, 1963.

permission was granted the Wisconsin Telephone Co. and other utilities to install new underground facilities along the South Memorial Drive route to the bridge.

Mares, who purchased the Pierce property last year, is objecting to the intersection plan prepared by the Wisconsin Highway commission, claiming the roadway will come within eight feet of the east side of his side porch.

Last year the council pressed for immediate widening of the Prospect - Memorial intersection by overwhelming votes. The work was delayed at the request of the street - sanitation committee to see if Appleton could qualify for state - federal aids, which it did.

Contracts will be awarded for the street construction next month, and work is scheduled to start June 21, forcing closing of the Memorial Drive bridge for about a month. The intersection is the city's heaviest traveled, according to traffic counts.

Aldermen said Wednesday night they had been targets of "an organized telephone campaign" urging a vote against the intersection project.

The board of public works recommendation to proceed with the street projects passed, 11-8. Bues was asked by the council to explain the city's position.

Inspection Unit Backed By Aldermen

He said last year his department was authorized to proceed with the intersection widening and then held off after it appeared there was a chance for state-federal assistance.

"I was given the go-ahead, and over a period of months, considerable time and energy was put into planning the street reconstruction from Badger Avenue to the Memorial Bridge," Bues said.

He explained that because of the grades set for South Memorial Drive, it was necessary to rip up the sidewalk. Utilities will put underground facilities beneath the new sidewalk, Bues explained.

"The state has set a deadline of May 26 to acquire the property for widening the intersection," Bues said. "If we miss that date there will be no aids and no project — it's just that simple."

Tipsy Driver Goes to Jail

Rural Appleton Man Fails to Pay Fine, Gets 60 Days

LITTLE CHUTE — Carson T. Curtis, 26, route 4, Appleton, pleaded guilty of operating a vehicle while under the influence of an intoxicant. He appeared before Anton Jansen, municipal justice, Wednesday night.

Curtis took 60 days in the county jail rather than pay a $100 fine, and had his driver's license revoked for one year. He was arrested Sunday night after police had noticed him drive on village streets.

Appleton Tightens Policy on Financing Convention Trips

Officials Will Face Frequency, Distance Limits, Effective June 1

The lid will be tightened on Appleton's convention fund, effective June 1.

After some discussion, and a five-minute recess during which the personnel committee held an impromptu meeting, the council approved a new convention policy Wednesday night.

Among other things, it will limit attendance of city officials and employees at national conventions to one every three years, providing it is within a radius of 500 air miles. In the past there has been no distance limitation.

Originally, the committee recommended the policy become effective when adopted, but Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th) said it would do an injustice to those who have funds allocated in 1964 budgets for attending conventions later in the year.

Exceptions Possible
The council indicated there could be exceptions to the convention rule, but they would have to be approved by the personnel committee and the entire council.

The new policy also limits the number of days an employee can be away from his job to attend seminars and conventions in a year.

Personnel authorized to attend conventions will be required to keep expenses within the budgeted amount.

Aldermen, citizen board and commission members will continue to receive $25 a day, plus mileage, for attending conventions which require them to be out of the city overnight.

Actual Expenses
Other meetings, seminars and conference reimbursements will be for actual expenses and mileage.

"We have needed a firm policy for a long time," Ald. E. V. Krueger, personnel chairman, said. He said the committee was not objecting to city representation at conventions, but felt there should be controls on cost and loss of time.

Tews agreed, but felt the effective date in the committee report represented "poor timing." He favored the June 1 cutoff.

"We are asking for economy but the council has been approving many requests to send people to conventions from one coast to the other," said Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings (7th). She said conventions cost the city $14,000 in 1962 and $22,000 in 1963.

Referred back to the personnel committee was a proposed new policy that any city employee injured on an outside job be given only a leave of absence without pay, emergency or sick leave. A group of firemen asked aldermen for a chance to discuss the proposal with the committee.

In other action, the council approved the following convention requests: Mayor Clarence Mitchell, United States Conference of Mayors, New York, May 24-27; Assessor John Pierre, Conference of International Association of Assessing Officers, Los Angeles, Oct. 4-7; the mayor, finance director, clerk, treasurer and finance committee, Wisconsin Clerks and Finance Officers convention, LaCrosse, June 24-25.

Prom Friday At Hortonville

Paul Baehman And Lola Keller Are Dance Royalty

HORTONVILLE — The Hortonville High School's Junior prom, "Wonderland by Night," will be Friday night in the school gymnasium.

The King and Queen, along with their court who will reign over the top social event of the junior class will be Paul Baehman, Lola Keller and the members of the court will be Ginny Berg, Allen Krull, Margie Woods, Pat Cousineau, Barbara Willenkamp, Lee Keller, Ardrea Huebner, Keith Krause, Pat Kaddatz, Roger Huebner, Becky Schroeder and Ken Schueler.

Chairmen of the various committees making preparations for the prom are; gym decorations, Becky Schroeder; band, Pat Kaddatz; refreshments, Carol Warning; advertising, Lola Keller; lobby decorations, Karen Much; flowers, Margie Woods and Barbara Willenkamp; and tickets, Ken Schueler.

Music will be provided by the Harold Jansen band with dancing from 9 to 11:30 p.m. The grand march will be at 9:30 p.m.

The gym will be decorated to coincide with the theme of the prom, but details are being confidential until dance time, members of the decorating committee said.

Zephyrs Edge DePere Squad In Inaugural

Score 9 Runs in First 2 Frames In 11-10 Decision

MENASHA — St. Mary scored nine runs in the first two innings but had to struggle to survive, finally edging East De Pere, 11-10, in its non-league opener here Wednesday.

Coach Jack Wippich, experimenting freely with his pitching corps, used five hurlers, including three freshmen. Tom Martin struggled the route for the losers. He only allowed six hits but walked eight and hit two more batters.

Freshman southpaw Tom Wroblewski started for the Zephyrs and in two innings allowed two unearned runs, two hits, struck out three and didn't walk anyone. Bill Beisenstein gave up two runs and four hits in the third inning and was relieved by Marc Haberman after walking the leadoff hitter in the fourth.

Stoebauer Held Out
Haberman finished the inning but gave way to Tom Heroux in the fifth. He also hurled the sixth. "Skip" Beisenstein worked the seventh. Senior letterman Bill Stoebauer was held out because of a finger injury.

Combined, they allowed 12 hits, walked three, hit one and fanned nine. Both teams committed two errors.

After De Pere tallied twice in the top of the first, St. Mary went ahead in the bottom of the frame on Mike Staniak's double, four walks a hit batsman and a theft of home by Cluck Hoernke.

The Menashans connected six times in the second on an infield hit by Tim Resch, Hoernke's triple, an error, Tom Simon's single, two walks and a triple by Wroblewski.

Chip at Lead
The Red Birds chipped at the lead with two runs in the third and three in the fourth, cutting the score to 9-7.

St. Mary picked up two insurance runs in the fourth on two walks, an error and Haberman's single, which sent across both markers.

Lola Keller and Paul Baehman will reign over Hortonville High School prom Friday night in the school gym. Theme of the dance is "Wonderland by Night."

Kaukauna Candidates File Expense Reports

KAUKAUNA—Twenty-five of the 41 candidates for office in the spring election filed post-election expense statements with the city clerk as required by state law, but many of these were improperly filled out as they failed to include expenses which had been filed on the pre-election report.

Emmett Rohan, successful candidate for city attorney, filed a complete report and listed expenses of $152. The other two candidates, Donald Green and Clarence O'Connor, did not file but in pre-election records listed expenses of $46.78 and $45 respectively.

Miss Ruth Wolf, city treasurer, reported total expenses of $16.20; George Simon, Third Ward alderman, reported total expenses of $50.75; Clayton Blumreich, First Ward alderman, reported total expenses of $24.50; Lothar Kemp, assessor, reported total expenses of $30.55.

Other Figures

Others providing correct figures were Russell De La Hunt, Fifth Ward supervisor, $24; Oscar Jahns, municipal justice, $5; Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon, $5; Clerk Karl Marzahl, $5; Jacob Weyenberg, Second Ward supervisor, $5.40; Clayton Van Dyke, candidate for Fourth Ward supervisor, $5.40; Aloys Peters, Fifth Ward Alderman, $9.75; Marshall Bayorgeon, school commissioner, $4.00; Edward Oliva, aldermanic candidate, and Matt Verfurth, Third Ward supervisor, none, and Dorothy Frank, treasurer candidate, $5.40.

Filing totals less than pre-election expense statements showed were Earl Luedike, Second Ward alderman, $5.40; Lila Pitt, treasurer candidate, $5.40; Clifford Femal, assessor candidate, $9.75; Merritt Kavanaugh, First Ward supervisor, $5.40.

Others showing less on post-election expense accounts than on pre-election were John Corcoran, Fourth Ward supervisor, $11.70; John Arnoldussen, First Ward aldermanic candidate, $5.40; Lloyd Kloebe, Second Ward aldermanic candidate, and James McDaniel, Third Ward aldermanic candidate, none.

Fourth Friday
Scheduled pick up route on the fourth Friday of each month will be Harriet, Marcella, Christine and Roger Streets, sections of Kimberly Avenue, Third and Fourth Streets, the east side of Main Street, south side of Kimberly Avenue, First, Second and Third Street sections and Elm, Maple, Birch, Walnut Streets and the west side of Pine Street.

Scheduled on the first Friday of each month is the east side of Pine, Willow, Lincoln, Washington, Jefferson Place, Adams Place, Darby Road, E. Oak N Pine, Wilson, north side of Kimberly Avenue, Macs Avenue to the ball park and First and Third Streets.

All other areas will be covered on the Second Friday of the month. Residents are to mark containers containing glass and have them set at the curbs or in alleys.

Sen. Williams Ready To Become Candidate

GEORGETOWN, Del. (AP)—Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., whose disclosures touched off the Bobby Baker investigation in the Senate, announced Wednesday he would run for reelection in November "if the people want me."

The senator made the statement after a resolution urging his candidacy was presented by the Sussex County Republican Committee.

Police Investigate Ransacking of Auto

Xavier Brothers Plan Banquet to Aid Province Education Fund

$50-a-Plate Event Will Be First Finance Effort Since Order Began Staffing School

Christian Brothers of Xavier High School will hold a $50-a-plate benefit banquet Sunday to raise funds for education and formation of young brothers.

The banquet will be the first formal fund-raising effort of the Xavier Christian Brothers since they began staffing the boys' department of the high school in 1959.

The banquet will be at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in the Country Aire Club.

The banquet will be "the community's first public acknowledgement of the Christian Brothers and their contribution to the city of Appleton," Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hoffer, general chairmen, said in a letter to Xavier parents.

Brother Peter, Xavier director, explained the Appleton brothers have been assessed $8 per boy enrolled by their Winona Province for operational costs. This money is used for the education and formation of boys preparing to become brothers, and for the facilities they need.

In past years the Xavier brothers have solicited funds only from parents of their students. But the burden is becoming "increasingly great," Brother Peter said, and this year the benefit banquet was planned "to give more civic-minded people an opportunity to help in the education of teachers for the benefit of the Appleton community."

Other Contributions

Persons who do not attend the banquet also may contribute to the Christian Brothers Educational Endowment Fund, he ceremonies.

said. This fund takes a brother through his novitiate year, four years of college, and work to complete his master's degree after one year of teaching experience.

The brothers have educated almost 1,000 Appleton boys in their five years at Xavier High School.

Blowing Horn
"We feel we are not blowing our horn unnecessarily," Brother Peter said. "The Fox Valley Lutheran High School teachers also are dedicated and should be acknowledged. Any teacher, private or public, is doing a tremendous thing for the community."

Main speaker at the banquet will be Brother J. Raymond of St. Mary's College, who will speak on "A Christian Brother" and also will serve as master of ceremonies.

Stimulate Students

3 Lawrence Scientists Visit Other Campuses

Three Lawrence College faculty members have played the role of visiting scientist at other institutions this year. They are Dr. Robert Rosenberg, associate professor of chemistry, who has visited three colleges; Dr. J. Bruce Brackenridge, associate professor of physics, visitor to two high schools in Wisconsin; and Dr. Sumner Richman, assistant professor of biology, who at the end of this month will appear at the University of Wisconsin. Purpose of the program, supported by the National Science Foundation, is to provide professional refreshment for faculty members and stimulus for students.

Scientist's Visits
 Dr. Rosenberg has visited Mount Saint Agnes College in Baltimore, Trinity College in Washington, D. C., and Drury College in Springfield, Mo. The first two are women's colleges. The visiting scientist program in chemistry has been in existence for ten years, sponsored by the division of chemical education of the American Chemical Society, and supported by the NSF grant. Dr. Brackenridge visited Neillville and Wisconsin Rapids High Schools this year, and Shawano and Antigo High schools during 1962-63. The American Physical Society sponsors the program with NSF support. Brackenridge gave general lectures about careers in physics, and described his own research to classes in physics. He also conferred with advanced students and faculty members. Dr. Richman will be a visiting scientist for the University of Wisconsin's graduate course in the biology of the plankton, which is directly supported by the National Science Foundation. Arrangements have been made by Dr. Arthur Hasler.

Catlin Starts Lawsuit to Get Lobbying Fees

OSHKOSH — Mark Catlin Jr., an Appleton attorney, has filed suit in Circuit Court here for payment of $5,232 for expenses he claims are due him as lobbyist for 11 cemetery associations. He said he worked as a lobbyist for the 11 corporations from Feb. 7, 1961, to Jan. 26, 1962. He is asking $3,750 for payment for 75 days of work at $50 a day, $862.40 for meals and hotel expenses, and $620 for mileage based on 31 round trips to Madison for a total of 6,200 miles at 10 cents a mile. Named as defendants are Kenn, Inc., of Neenah, Valhalla, Inc., Pinelawn Memorial Park and Mausoleum, Wisconsin Memorial Park Co., Wanderers Rest Interment Society, Arlington Park Cemetery, all of Milwaukee, Sunset Ridge, Inc., of Kenosha, Cemetery Management Inc., of Madison, Nicolet Memorial Gardens of Green Bay, West Lawn Memorial Park of Racine, and Forest Hills Memorial Park, Inc., of Oak Creek. In his suit, Catlin stated he had been hired by Jack Haue, an officer and agent for one of the corporations, to secure passage of legislation amending licensing laws of cemetery salesmen. He said he appeared before committees as lobbyist on three bills during that year's period.

Pick Play, Cast For AHS Senior Class Production

"The Cave Dwellers" by American playwright William Soroyan will be given by the Appleton High School senior class in May. The cast, in order of appearance, is the Duke, Steven Hubin; the girl, Annette Baron; the Queen, Constance McIntyre; the King, Ronald Kirk; the young opponent, Thomas Romensko; a woman with a dog, Ann Reetz; two young men, Richard Blackburn and Gary Meade and two young women, Julie Bassett and Lehann Siedschlag. Others taking parts are the young Queen, Norma Justman; the father, Christopher Dahl; Gorky (the bear), John Morin; the mother, Susan Bahcall; the silent boy, Richard Rothe; the wrecking crew, Burt Hem, and Jamie, Thomas Roemer. "The Cave Dwellers" is a timeless portrayal of characters, exhibiting the warmth in the human qualities of people. The set for the play is the stage of an abandoned theater. Lee Schoeni is director of the play and Jack Burroughs is producer. Miss Enid Spring, practice teacher from the University of Wisconsin who is working with Schoeni in the speech department, will design the set.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused: The use of SURE for SURELY is colloquial, and is never used in formal English in this sense. Do not say, "I sure am going." Say, "I SURELY am going."

Often Mispronounced: Sveite. Pronounce as "svelt," to rhyme with "felt."

Often Misspelled: Loath (adjective, meaning reluctant). Loathe (verb, meaning to regard with disgust). Loathsome (no "e" after the "th").

Synonyms: Thought (noun), reflection, meditation, contemplation, reasoning, cogitation, supposition, idea, opinion, judgment.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: MILITATE; to have weight or effect for or against, to have influence in determining a question. "This evidence militates against the accused person."

Stereo FM Coming to Area Radio Listeners

Daily Hour Program Starts Friday
At 7 p.m. Over Station WBAY-FM

BY JINGO
After using only one ear to listen to radio all of these years, Fox Cities FM fans are going to get a chance to put both ears to work starting tomorrow night. Stereo has come to the Northeastern Wisconsin airways.

The vehicle for what is purported to be the ultimate in listening is WBAY-FM. The station will start broadcasting stereo programs at 7 p.m. tomorrow and will continue every day with an hour's show at that time.

The program will consist of jazz, pop and classical music in more or less equal proportions. Of course, those of us who are not equipped to use both ears on their FM sets will be able to continue to listen to the 7 to 8 p.m. shows with only one ear.

(Jingo reminds listeners that not all stereo systems with FM receivers will play back the broadcasts in stereo. Stereo reception is possible only in sets with FM multiplex receivers, built into most post-1961 systems. Sets without multiplex can be converted with adapters to receive stereo FM.)

Jingo's rather adamant regard for more or less conventional music has gotten him in hot water once more. A woman in Kaukauna who claims to have studied music at Lawrence College for four years wrote Jingo to tell him she thought his calling rock 'n' roll "insane" "downright rotten."

Although her letter didn't of the money spent on rock 'n' roll outfits — but the practice idea was entirely new and quite startling.

She also used the clincher for any argument, apparently, that concerns teen-agers. "The youngsters (and there are many) who are out listening to and dancing to rock 'n' roll, at least are not out slashing car tires, car seats, robbing and stealing."

Jingo hopes that she doesn't mean by this that youngsters who enjoy, listen to and dance to music produced by skilled musicians producing well modulated harmonies and intelligible melodies are the ones who slash, rob and steal!

Business Acumen
Jingo must agree with the lady in her high regard for the appearance of most rock 'n' roll outfits and he'll go even a step further and congratulate them on their business acumen.

But music? Jingo's Kaukauna correspondent seems to beg the question. Although she said she listens, her concern with the "musicians'" appearance, personal industry and the therapeutic values of what they produce fails to convince Jingo of the musical worth of their efforts.

How did you make out in your Oscar guessing contest? Although Jingo was much surprised at some of the choices, he came out with 11 winners. His cinema-expert friend only came up with six winners. Quite possibly the Academy members could have been wrong.

Andre Kostelanetz Guest Conductor for Philharmonic Concert

A New York Philharmonic concert guaranteed to please a wide audience is scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday over WAPL, the radio station that airs the weekly concert exclusively in Wisconsin through the winter and spring season. Andre Kostelanetz has the guest baton and will conduct several popular favorites.

Russia is the nation of origin for composers represented. The program opens with Glinka's Overture to "Russian and Ludmilla," representative of the great wave of romantic nationalist music that swept Europe in the 19th century. Next musical item is Prokofiev's "Wedding Suite" from "The Stone Flower," Opus 126, including "Amorous Dance," "Dance of the Finances Girl Friends," "Maidens Dance," "Ceremonial Dance" and "Wedding Dance."

Igor Stravinski, who now lives in Beverly Hills, Calif., composed the "Firebird" suite in 1910. The version to be played Sunday afternoon was reorchestrated in 1919 and represents three concert suites extracted from the complete score of the original "Firebird." The story of "The Firebird" is based on many Russian legends about young Tsarevich Ivan, the beneficent fairy known as the "Firebird," and the green-taloned monster Kaschei.

The all-time favorite Rimsky-Korsakoff symphonic suite "Scheherazade," Opus 35, rounds out the performance from Lincoln Center. John Corigliano will be the featured violin soloist.

Evening Lions Name 2 New Directors

Appleton Evening Lions board of directors recently named replacement for two of its members who were transferred to jobs in other areas.

Phil Ehl will replace Stan Everson, who was transferred to Eau Claire, and Darwin Griffith will replace Mac Karpens, now living in Minnesota.

DOES YOUR DOG HATE MODERN ART?

You don't have the vaguest idea, now do you? If your pet doesn't know English, he can't talk things over with you. Which is too bad. Lots of dogs aren't fed properly and they can't complain about it.

If you give him Rival though, talk isn't needed. Inside every can of Rival is every last thing a dog needs. Meat, vitamins, minerals, proteins, nutrients, the works. Regular beef or liver flavored. Feed him nothing but Rival and you'll have a healthy, happy dog who'll like modern art even if he doesn't understand it.

Genius Hits The Nurses With Bang

BY TV SCOUT
9-10 (Channel 2) — "Gismo on the EEG" on The Nurses is an absolutely delightful comedy with an adroit, charming performance from June Harding (one of the regulars on The Richard Boone Show this season) as the most inept student nurse you have ever seen. It's not that the girl is dumb — she's a near-genius who had entered MIT with the second highest IQ in the institute's history. But she decided nursing is more feminine.

7-7:30 (Channel 11) — Baseball fans won't mind that the story on The Donna Reed Show is off-base because it gives them a chance to see Willie Mays, Don Drysdale and Leo Durocher.

7-8 (Channel 2) — Rawhide begins a two-part show with an interesting idea. Broderick Crawford is a wealthy man, sentenced to be hanged for a murder he readily admits. But no one in the town takes this seriously, since no one will be the hangman.

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — My Three Sons has a funny running gag about Bub's (William Frawley) telephone problems with a little girl whose mother is taking a bath every time Bub calls. And he has to keep calling about a bridal shower planned for Mike's fiancée, which is on, off, on again, off again.

8-9 (Channel 2) — Perry Mason is better than usual, with more character development, a logical plot progression, and fewer suspects. Peter Breck is a reformed alcoholic who leaps off the wagon after he sees a woman he claims is his wife, supposedly killed years earlier in a plane crash.

8:30-9 (Channel 4-5) — Hazel is predictable, but funny. The Baxters and Hazel (Shirley)

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

True. People may think they worry about their health, or how the children will turn out (or when they will turn in). The real cause for such a worry is often a basic fear that they won't "make good" in their own eyes. Or it may be some threat to the ideals and goals around which they have organized their lives. Self-understanding, plus a basic willingness to be what you are and make the best of it, are the real solutions to the problem of worry. If you need further proof of this, just read the valuable booklet "How to Be an Emotional Grownup." To get your copy, send 20 cents and a stamped, return envelope to this column, care of Appleton Post-Crescent.

Which are more "at home" in the world?

Men — Women. The author of "Sex in Man and Woman: Its Emotional Variations," a man, says that women are much more at home in the world than are men. Therefore women rarely feel the urge to find out all about things, as many men do. Women make changes, but usually only those connected with their homes or those parts of society that affect their families. Men explore and probe and change the world around them, because they are not so intimately related to all living things, as women are.

9-10 (Channel 4-5) — "Portrait of an Unknown Man" on Kraft Suspense Theater, is a slow-moving but absorbing story of the arrival of a laconic man in a mining town. He buys supplies, attracts the shy glance of the storekeeper's daughter, then sets out to live on the top of his mountain, surrounded by his No Trespassing signs. (Color)

Terror, Rocket and Cardinal Trackmen To Battle Friday

AHS Defends Triangular Meet Crown on Neenah Track

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Three traditional Valley rivals will open their 1964 outdoor track seasons at Neenah High School at 4 p.m. Friday.

Competing against the Rockets, almost perennial kingspins of the Mid-Eastern Conference, will be Appleton's Terrors and Fond du Lac's Cardinals, of the Fox River Valley Conference.

The Terrors, who have won the last four major FRVC track and field meets (the 1963 and 1964 indoor titles, the '63 outdoor test and the '63 relays carnival) are the defending champions in this triangular. Last year, AHS scored 69 points on its own track, while Neenah carded 58 and Fondy came in with 21.

Each team will be headed by one of the state's outstanding trackmen in Friday's meet. Appleton's Chuck McKee was a triple champion (and record-breaker) in the FRVC indoor meet in Manitowoc and also won the broad jump in the star-studded Madison West Relays.

Neenah's Jim Hammill won the Manitowoc Invitational mile 1 record time, placed second in last Saturday's USTFF public-school meet in Madison and finished fourth in the Madison relays mile.

Breaks Record

Fondy sophomore John Zoelle broke the 60-yard indoor dash record in the '64 FRVC meet and won the 100-yard title in the '63 outdoor meet.

Neenah's best showing on the indoor circuit was a third place in the 13-team Manitowoc Invitational field. The Rockets placed 18th in the Madison West Relays.

Besides winning the "RVC indoor title, the Terrors were 13th in the Madison West relays.

Fond du Lac tied for sixth place in the FRVC meet.

AHS and Neenah will be favored to outscore Fondy Friday in the first of several head-to-head outdoor tests this season. The Terrors and the Rockets meet again in a dual (at Neenah) and in the Papermaker Relays.

Last year, the Rockets and the Terrors fought nip-and-tuck in the triangular down to the final event or two before AHS pulled ahead to win by 11. Neenah reversed it to edge AHS, 60½-57½.

Senators Notch 6-4 Win Over Los Angeles

Bill Skowron's Homer Ignites 6-Run Spurge

BY MURRAY CHASS

Bill Skowron is home.

That sweet sight for Skowron is the American League, where he starred with the New York Yankees for nine years before being shipped to the National League.

The 33-year-old first baseman, now with Washington, officially marked his return Wednesday night with a home run that ignited a six-run outburst in the second inning, the Senators' biggest inning in two seasons.

The spurge carried the defending cellar champions to a 6-4 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels in the only American League game.

Skowron's home run, his first hit as a Senator, was his first in the league since Sept. 25, 1962. Two months after that homer, which incidentally was against the Senators, the Yankees sent him to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Skowron might not have felt like an alien in the National League, but his .203 average didn't exactly make him feel as if he belonged.

He wound up the regular season with a mere four home runs and 19 runs batted in before helping in the World Series and the Dodgers to a four-

Nightmare Occurs After 2 Are Out; Bailey, Mathews Homer; Milwaukee Faces Colts Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves spotted the San Francisco Giants 10 runs in one nightmare inning Wednesday night and were defeated 10-8 after an all-out bid to catch up fell short.

The Braves poured 20 players, six of them pitchers, into the battle, but they left with nothing but a second straight defeat in as many games in the new season as they headed off to Houston to find out how tough the Colts will be. The Braves used eight pitchers in the two-game Giant series.

And Willie Mays enjoyed all the Milwaukee hurlers, driving in three runs with his third homer Wednesday night. Mays belted Warren Spahn for a pair of homers in Tuesday's season opener. Ed Bailey and Ed Mathews hit Braves homers.

Walked Sanford

Milwaukee starter Bob Sadowski faced the minimum of eight batters before he walked Giant starter Jack Sanford with two away in the third. Before the third out was recorded, the Giants had rolled up their biggest inning since moving from New York in 1958.

Sanford got to third as Matty Alou singled to right, and Sanford scored on a single by Jim Davenport. Mays' homer cleared the bases. After Willie McCovey walked, Orlando Cepeda singled and Dick Kelley

Pittsburgh Tips Chicago, 5-4, in 12 Innings

BY MIKE RATHET

They're tearing down the Polo Grounds, and Willie Mays is ripping up Candlestick Park.

Mays, 3,000 miles and seven years removed from New York's Polo Grounds, hammered his third home run in two games Wednesday night, triggering a 10-run third inning uprising that carried the Giants to a 10-8 victory over Milwaukee.

It was the biggest inning for the Giants since the team pulled out of New York and moved West after the 1957 season.

Mays, the only member of the Giants who played with the club while the Polo Grounds was called home, now does most of his hitting at Candlestick Park. In the first two games of the season he has collected three hits and three homers. He hit a pair against the Braves Tues-

Jackpot for Bowl-O-Rama Jumps Past $1,400 Mark

Tournament Entries Have Been Received From 21 Communities

BY JIM HARP

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Entries continue to roll in for the second annual Post-Crescent Bowl-O-Rama, and a check Wednesday showed that over 600 have been received and group reservations amount to nearly another 100 to date.

The 600 official entries along with the reservations mean that there's sure to be over $1,400 in the prize jackpot waiting for distribution to bowlers.

More and more entries are arriving daily and tournament officials hope that the 1,000 mark can be hit before the tourney opens Saturday, May 2, at the 41 Bowl.

The village of Kimberly is rapidly capturing the title of "best percentage of representation." Thanks to Jerry Thiel, at Jerry's Lanes, Kimberly will have more than 50 bowlers in a group at 7 p.m. May 10, another block of 20 from the Kimberly Recreation Association Couples League and a good representa-

Athlete Dies After Running 100-Yard Dash

AUSTELL, Ga. (AP)—A 16-year-old athlete collapsed and died after a 100-yard dash in a physical education class Wednesday.

Mouth-to-mouth respiration by a coach failed to revive Jack Abernathy, a football tackle at South Cobb High School. At 6-foot-2 and over 200 pounds, he also was the No. 2 man on the golf team.

Principal Robert E. Lee said the sophomore athlete was rushed to a clinic less than 50 yards away within four minutes. Basketball Coach Wayne Dabose attempted to revive him at the scene. He died of an apparent heart stoppage, the principal said. Oxygen, adrenaline and further respiration were administered at the clinic.

The youth had undergone a recent medical examination in order to qualify for spring football practice and had no record of physical limitations of any kind.

McGuire Says Warriors Will Stress Defense

Meets Varsity Freshmen at Pizza Supper

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Al McGuire formally began his basketball coaching career at Marquette University Wednesday with four hours of fast break conferences, and finally a pizza supper with last season's varsity and the freshmen.

During his trip, the 34-year-old McGuire met his predecessor, Ed Hickey, who was fired last month; huddled with new athletic director Stan Lowe; approved a rugged 26-game schedule for the next campaign and attended a press meeting.

McGuire said the 1964-65 schedule "is the type I like, if I'm ready for it. I want to book a tough schedule every year. Lowe told me the future schedules are my baby."

Gets Job Offer

McGuire said he expected to have the matter of an assistant coach cleared up today. He said he had offered the job to Henry Raymonds who resigned just before the last season's end as Hickey's top aide.

Anticipating the recruiting battle, McGuire said, "From all I hear, the first thing Marquette needs is the good, big kid."

"Next season, we'll have to stress defense. We'll have to get the big opposition player out from under the basket by hook or by crook, even if it means playing possession basketball."

McGuire comes to the Warriors camp from North Carolina's Belmont Abbey College, where his teams won 120 games and lost 60 in seven years.

"I want the boys to play hard," he said. "If I can get the spirit up to a maximum, we'll be hard to beat. I'll have to build myself up first, and then build up the kids. I'm really thankful for this opportunity and looking forward to the challenge."

Collects $63,721 In Twin Double

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 50-year-old Miami man invested $2 in a hunch bet on the twin double at Gulfstream Park and collected $63,721 Wednesday.

Vincent Palmisano, a former public relations man, took his winnings home in cash.

"With me opening a restaurant next week, this money sure came at an opportune time," he said.

He said he found the winning numbers on a piece of paper on the floor of the restaurant he plans to take over. He said he had no idea what the numbers—3, 7, 8, 1—represented but decided to get them.

Pesky Re-Opens Dressing Room To Reporters

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Johnny Pesky of Boston rescinded Wednesday a ban on newspapermen in the Boston locker room before it got started.

Pesky said Tuesday writers would be kept out for one hour before a game and for 20 minutes after. "Some of the players wanted the press kept out," he said, "but it was my idea too. Now that I understand the situation, our dressing room will be open to the press at all times except when unusual circumstances call for a period of cooling off."

The Red Sox had a similar rule for many years, but the writers covering the team persuaded Pesky to drop it last before a game and for 20 min-

Labron Harris, R. H. Sikes Join Pro Golf Ranks
STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Two prominent amateur golfers, Labron Harris, Jr., 22, of Stillwater, and Richard Sikes, 24, of Springdale, Ark., have turned professional and intend to join the PGA tour.
Harris, the 1962 national amateur golf champion and a former Oklahoma State University star, is the son of the OSU golf coach. He now is an OSU graduate student.
Sikes has won the national public links championship twice, is a former NCAA champion and was runner-up in the 1963 national amateur. He formerly played for the University of Arkansas.
Both golfers were on the U.S. Walker Cup team which defeated Great Britain last spring.

Mrs. Beulah Hawig rolled a 656 series in the Wednesday afternoon Three Skirts Minus One League at the Pla-Mor-Lanes, Chilton. She bowled the honor count with games of 222, 224 and 210. With the national honor count, she topped a 25-year-old record of 642 rolled by Mrs. Rose Boehnlein in 1939. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Bill Introduced to Insure Competition in Pro Sports

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to spell out antitrust exemptions for professional team sports was introduced Wednesday by Rep. Frank Horton, R-N.Y., former president of the Rochester Red Wings of the International Baseball League.
The measure would affect such practices as player drafts, reserve clauses and territorial franchises.
Horton introduced the bill in response to Supreme Court decisions which he said urged Congress to clarify the relationship of professional team sports with the antitrust laws.

In subsequent decisions, the court affirmed a 1922 ruling that baseball was exempt from antitrust action, Horton said.
Must Abide
But he said the court has ruled that other organized sports, including football, baseball and hockey must abide by antitrust restrictions.
His bill is almost identical to one which passed the House in 1958 but died in the Senate.
In urging approval of the measure, Horton said competition—not monopoly—is the best assurance of high profits for both team owners and players.
"Sports are unique in this capacity," he added. "Here the owner of one team does not wish to destroy the financial stability and the competitive capability of opposing teams. If professional sports are to continue to flourish for the public's enjoyment, they must be allowed to insure that competition is preserved."

Pancho Gonzales Will Return To Pro Tennis

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Veteran tennis star Pancho Gonzales announced Wednesday he is returning to the professional wars, ending a retirement of almost three years.
Now 35, Gonzales said he would compete in the full series of pro tournaments mapped out by the International Professional Tennis Players Association starting May 19 at Washington, D.C.
The Los Angeles-born Pancho has played in only one tournament since November, 1961. He lost to Alex Olmedo at Forest Hills last summer.
Jack Kramer, former promoter of the pros who had numerous disagreements with Gonzales, is the Los Angeles advisor of the new tour.
At Pancho's coming-out luncheon Wednesday, both agreed they had buried past differences.

Mrs. Hawig Rolls Record 656 Series

Breaks 25-Year Mark at Chilton With 222, 224, 210

CHILTON — Mrs. Beulah Hawig rolled a 656 honor count in the Wednesday afternoon Three Skirts Minus One League at the Pla-Mor Lanes.
She tallied the honor count with games of 222, 224 and 210. This was her second honor count. In 1963 she rolled a 600 series.
Bowling honors have been mounting for the Hawigs. Mrs. Hawig's husband, "Chick," has had a perfect 300 game and seven national honor counts this season at the lanes which they operate.

Mrs. Hawig bowls in three leagues at the Hawig owned lanes and carries averages ranging from 163 to 169.
In marking the honor series, Mrs. Hawig did not miss a spare until the second ball of the 10th frame of the last game when she split.
A 25-year-old record was topped with the high series. Mrs. Rose Boehnlein rolled a 642 April 3, 1939 at the old Endres Lanes.
Within the past three weeks Chilton bowlers have marked outstanding feats on the alleys.

Entry List Passes 700

tion at the "Heart of the Valley Night" which is scheduled for Thursday May 7.
Other Communities
In addition to Kimberly, a good many other communities in the Fox Cities area will be represented in the tournament. Entries have been received from Kaukauna, Hollandtown, DePere, Green Bay, Reedsville, Darboy, Brillion, Manawa, Hortonville, New London, Waupaca, Oshkosh, Omro, Bonduel, Seymour, Little Chute, Combined Locks, Neenah, Menasha and Appleton.

Indications point to a good response from tri-village and Kaukauna bowlers for the "Heart of the Valley" night May 7. This, along with the better than 50 bowlers expected from Kimberly for May 10 at 7 p.m. have caused tournament officials to set up two nights for the Heart of the Valley keggers. Those who would like a mid-week night for bowling can pick May 7, a Thursday, and those who would prefer the weekend can take the May 10 date. On either night they will find themselves bowling with a good many other keggers from their home town.
Special prize that all bowlers will be shooting at in this year's Bowl-O-Rama will be a 1964 Rambler sedan.
Perfect Game
Sam Malofsky, of Malofsky Motors on W. Wisconsin Avenue, has put up the car which will be awarded to the first man or woman bowling a perfect 300 game in the tournament. The first one cracking 12 straight strikes will drive away with the new 2-door Rambler.
In addition to their cash awards, first place winners in the four divisions will receive sport-type wrist watches and those in the runnerup spots will get trophies in addition to their cash prizes.

Last week, Mrs. Jean Maxson rolled a 601 honor count and "Chick" scored his perfect 300 game, the first since 1939.

Neenah, AHS, Fond du Lac Meet Friday

In a dual meet—the Terrors' lone loss of the season. Appleton came back to shade Neenah, 179-171, for the top spot in the Papermaker relays.
Neenah's Dave Neubauer, currently out for spring football practice at the University of Wisconsin, scored triple wins in both the dual and triangular against AHS. This year, AHS' McKee bids fair to play the "Neubauer" role.
In last year's 3-way meet, McKee placed in four events (winning the high jump, placing second in the broad jump and high hurdles and finishing third in the low hurdles). Friday, he will be favored in the broad jump and both hurdles events and may also compete in the high jump.

Hammill Wins
Hammill won the mile in the '63 triangular in 4:47.6. He ran a 4:34 in this year's Manitowoc meet.

Bliss won the 220 last year and placed second to AHS Jerry Bishop in the 100-yard dash. The Neenah ace won the 60-yard dash in the Manitowoc meet this spring.
Bliss will renew his rivalry with Zoelle in both sprints Friday. In last year's triangular, Bliss finished ahead of his Cardinal foe in both races.

AHS' Gary Hietpas won the 440-yard run in the '63 triangular, edging Neenah's Bob Walker with a time of 53.5 seconds. Strong competition will likely come Friday from Fondy's Jim McCready, who was fourth in the event last year.

Appleton's Russ Kamine tied for first in the pole with Fond du Lac's Giese last year and will be entered in Friday's test.

Neenah's Bob Roberts and Bruce Rasmussen and AHS' Dennis Brinkman could stage quite a duel in the 890-yard run. Roberts won the Manitowoc invitational in 2:06.5. Brinkman placed second in the FRVC indoor meet, in 2:07.3. Rasmussen, who has had a bout with the measles, is back in action. Last year, as a freshman, he ran third in the triangular's 880.

Fondy's Dean Dablow could give McKee a battle in the hurdles and the broad jump. Dablow placed in all three events in last year's triangular.

The Cardinals' Dan McLain, who placed second in the FRVC indoor mile, may give Hammill a good run in his specialty.

Among the other top entrants will be AHS' Jim Dunsin, in the high jump; Tom Karrow, shot put; Scott Hetherington, broad jump; Neenah's Larry Blohm, sprints, Bill Falk, weights; and Rex Loker, hurdles; and Fond du Lac's Bob St. Lawrence, dashes; and Jim Vraney, weights.

CORDOVAN'S FAMOUS NO-LIMIT "PLUS" GUARANTEE

Every CORDOVAN tire is guaranteed on a nation-wide NO-LIMIT basis; no limit on months, miles, speed or type of roads FOR THE ENTIRE LIFE OF THE TREAD. This "No-Limit" guarantee applies against defects in workmanship and materials and normal road hazards, except repairable punctures. If a Cordovan tire fails under this guarantee, you will get allowance on a new tire based on original tread depth remaining and the price you paid for the tire.

 PLUS ***

On Cordovan's top three tires, the LOW PROFILE JET, JET STAR 120 and the JET 130 you receive an additional guarantee that your entire tire will wear a specified number of miles, not just until the tread is gone. (24,000 miles for the LOW PROFILE JET, 30,000 miles for the JET STAR 120; 36,000 miles for the JET 130.) Should a CORDOVAN JET tire fail before you have driven this guaranteed mileage, you will get credit for the unused mileage against the purchase of a new tire, not just credit on remaining tread depth.

Campaigning in This Election Year Strange

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—It's a weird, this presidential election year, one of the weirdest in a long time.
In polls or presidential primaries:
1. A woman without a chance — Maine's Senator, Margaret Chase Smith—picks up speed but she's not going any place.
2. A prince of Southern segregationists — Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace—does surprisingly well in the North.
3. The men who talked and tried the hardest—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater—finished behind the silent Sam type — Henry Cabot Lodge—who wasn't even there.
Likely Prospect
And Pennsylvania's Gov. William Scranton—who could rock himself to sleep with the monotonous insistence that he has no presidential ambitions while admitting he'd accept a "draft"—is still considered a likely Republican presidential prospect.
Yet, there are probably not 10 Republicans in 100 outside Pennsylvania who have any idea what Scranton thinks on any issue or even what kind of governor he has been.
Wallace went into the Wisconsin primary and captured 25 per cent of the total vote, proving if it needed proving, that a lot of Northern whites are just as much segregationist as Southern whites.
Illinois Primary
Then in the Illinois primary—where his name wasn't even on the ballot—more than 4,500 people wrote it in, giving him more votes than Rockefeller, Scranton, Michigan's Gov. George Romney, and Harold Stassen.
Mrs. Smith campaigned hard in the New Hampshire primary last month and wound up down near the bottom of the list with only 2,120 votes. In this week's Illinois primary she said she spent only $85 on two campaign appearances.
But when the returns came in she had almost 200,000 votes.

Goldwater got 490,000. Their two names were the only ones on the ballot.
Write-In Votes
The Illinois write-in voters weren't satisfied with Goldwater or Mrs. Smith. They wrote in Lodge, giving him over 52,000 votes, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, giving him over 24,000.
But the real weirdy in all of it is the popularity of Lodge who—because he is U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam under the Johnson administration—hasn't said a word about what he thinks on domestic issues.
And, because he hasn't held political office in 14 years—since John F. Kennedy took his Senate seat away from him in 1952—probably few Republicans can remember where he stands or what he thinks on anything.
Finished First
Yet in the New Hampshire primary, where his name was not even on the ballot and voters decided to write it in, he finished first over all other Republicans who are, or want to be, considered for their party's nomination.
He came out ahead of Goldwater, Rockefeller and Mrs. Smith. Their names were on the ballot and they had campaigned hard around the state. Nixon's name was also written in. He finished fourth, behind Lodge, Goldwater and Rockefeller but ahead of Mrs. Smith.
And just recently in Oregon a poll among Republicans on their presidential preferences put Lodge far ahead of Nixon, Rockefeller, Goldwater and Mrs. Smith.
(Nixon says he's not seeking the presidential nomination but, for a man who says he isn't, he is doing a lot of talking, and has kept on talking about American problems even when he went on an overseas trip.)
The continuing popularity of Lodge, who has never said he is a candidate, might be interpreted as a changing attitude in American politics—that people like politicians who keep their mouths shut.

Eileen Hoel Hits 613 'National' Set

Includes 258 Line in Elks Loop; Shirley Helser Slams 551 Count

Eileen Hoel cracked the ninth women's national honor count of the season on Appleton lanes when she powered a 613 series in the Elks Ladies League Tuesday night.

Eileen started out with a mediocre 156 game and then followed with a booming 258 line and closed out with a 199.

The 258 was the highest single effort by a woman locally this season. The game included eight strikes, six in a row.

Mrs. Hoel is a regular bowler in the Women's Classic League, but was substituting in the Elks circuit. She carries a league average around the 159 mark.

First in 15 Years

For Mrs. Hoel it was the first national honor count in 15 years of bowling. Her previous best effort was around the 560 mark.

The national honor set was the third of the month for women in the city Evelyn Myers started it off with a 606 on April 1, and she followed with a 618 on April 8. Mrs. Myers has had four counts over 600 this season.

Previous high individual game, locally was a 253 count by DeLores Jacobs in the Women's Classic League Jan. 15.

The Gin Rickeys (50-34) won the championship of the Elks Ladies League with the Manhattans finishing one game off.

Other honor scores included Rene Schumacher, 200; 528 and Marge Horn, 197.

Shirley "Butch" Helser and Naomi Thomack tied for high game in the Women's Classic League at the 41 Bowl Wednesday night as each slammed a 214 count. Shirley had top series with a 551 total on the final night of action. Naomi finished with 526.

Marc's Big Boy won the league championship with The Embers placing second, 1½ games behind.

Other honor scores included Gail Stevenson, 198; Eileen McCarey, 523; Leone Uetzman, 194.

day, then followed with a three-run shot Wednesday.

Big Inning

The St. Louis Cardinals also came up with a big inning, rapping Don Drysdale for five runs in the eighth inning en route to a 6-2 victory over Los Angeles—their first triumph over the world champion Dodgers in their last five regular-season games.

In other action, Bill Virdon drew a bases-loaded walk in the 12th inning that forced in the winning run in Pittsburgh's 5-4 decision over the Chicago Cubs, and Jim Bunning won his first game as a National Leaguer by pitching Philadelphia to a 4-1 victory over the New York Mets. Houston and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

The Cardinals' winning rally also was started by the winning pitcher when Bob Gibson stroked a single. After Gibson moved over to second, Drysdale intentionally walked Bill White but got crossed up on his strategy by hitting Charley James with a pitch.

Two-Run Single

Ken Boyer then rapped a two-run single that broke a 1-1 tie and Johnny Lewis, Curt Flood and Tim McCarver followed with run-scoring singles. Frank Howard got a run back for the Dodgers in the ninth with his second homer in two days.

Cub rookie Fred Norman, supported by Ernie Banks' three-run homer carried a 4-1 lead into the ninth before the Pirates struck. Smokey Burgess drove in two runs with a pinch-hit single before Virdon singled home the tying run.

In the 12th, Bob Bailey led off with a single against Don Elston and eventually reached third on a wild pitch. Elston then issued two intentional walks, loading the bases, before issuing the unintentional pass to Virdon.

Bunning, acquired in a trade with Detroit, got his first NL victory when Tony Gonzalez hit a three-run homer in the eighth inning. The blast followed an error by first baseman Tim Lincecum on a two-out groundout that should have ended the inning.

Bunning struck out 11 Mets and allowed the only run in the fifth when loser Tracy Stallard doubled and Harkness singled. That had tied the score 1-1.

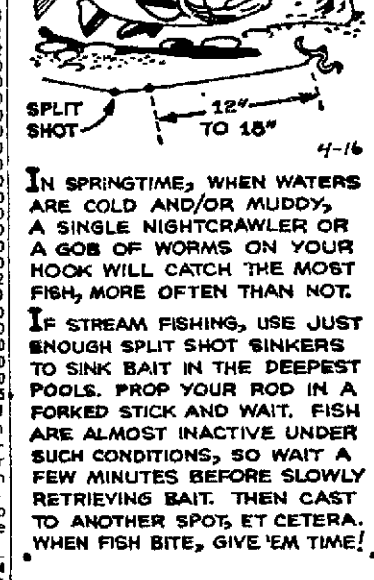

Hal Smith hit the only home run, connecting for the Reds in the fifth off winning pitcher Larry Dovel.

WHEN IT PAYS TO USE WORMS

IN SPRINGTIME, WHEN WATERS ARE COLD AND/OR MUDDY, A SINGLE NIGHTCRAWLER OR A GLOBE OF WORMS ON YOUR HOOK WILL CATCH THE MOST FISH, MORE OFTEN THAN NOT.

IF STREAM FISHING, USE JUST ENOUGH SPLIT SHOT SINKERS TO SINK BAIT IN THE DEEPEST POOLS. PROP YOUR ROD IN A FORKED STICK AND WAIT. FISH ARE ALMOST INACTIVE UNDER SUCH CONDITIONS, SO WAIT A FEW MINUTES BEFORE SLOWLY RETRYING BAIT. THEN CAST TO ANOTHER SPOT, ET CETERA. WHEN FISH BITE, GIVE 'EM TIME!

Senators Notch 6-4 Win Over Los Angeles

game sweep of his former teammates.

Another two months had elapsed after the series when Los Angeles sold him to Washington. Plummeling from a world champion to a cellar dweller might have been a brutal descent, but Skowron at least is back where he believes he can hit.

Following the first baseman's big hit Wednesday night, starting pitcher Bennie Daniels singled in one run, Don Blasingame singled for two more and Chuck Hinton drove in the last pair with a triple.

Jim Fregosi had homered with Billy Moran aboard for a 2-0 Los Angeles lead in the first inning. The Angels made it close with two unearned runs in the sixth.

John Kennedy was the fielding star for the Senators, making three outstanding plays at third base. His spectacular grab of Joe Adcock's smash in the seventh halted a threatened rally.

The Senators go after their second victory tonight, hosting Minnesota. The Yankees and Boston tried to get their season under way for the third time today at New York. Rain washed out their scheduled opener again Wednesday.

Joe Ludwig, Jr. Slams 616 in Freedom League

Joe Ludwig, Jr. slammed a 616 series by Dick Ludwig and a 569 by Frank DeJong.

The other honor scores were a 568 series by Dick Ludwig and a 569 by Frank DeJong. Jack Niesz rolled a 225 game and Don LeNoble had a 608 series to share honors in the American Legion League at the Little Chute Recreation Lanes.

Others with honor scores included Gene Van Deuren, 586; Joe Reynebau, 552 and "Buzz" Walvoort, 564.

The Padres nicked Bob Purkey, who was testing a sore arm, for nine hits in dealing him the loss.

Marquette Sets Cage Schedule

McGuire Faces 26-Game Season In First Year

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A 26-game schedule, including 15 home appearances at Milwaukee Arena, was announced Wednesday for new coach Al McGuire's 1964-65 Marquette University basketball team.

The Warriors will open Dec. 1 against St. Thomas of Minnesota and will meet five, and possibly six, other newcomers to the schedule. The other new teams include Minnesota, New Mexico State, Brigham Young and Washington of St. Louis.

Another new opponent will be played in the Milwaukee Classic Dec. 18-19 if Marquette plays both Boston College and UCLA, the list of newcomers will total seven. Wisconsin will meet one of the visitors and Marquette the other in the opening round.

Dec. 1—St. Thomas of Minn.; 5—at Louisville, 8—at Minn.

Sanford's Batting Eye Starts Giants on 10-Run Outburst

BY JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Many a game has been won by Jack Sanford's strong right arm and now the San Francisco Giants can point to a weird win decided by the pitcher's eye.

With two outs in the third inning Wednesday night against Milwaukee, Sanford swung at the first pitch of the Braves' Bob Sadowski.

Then Jack watched a breaking pitch and three fast balls miss the plate and took his walk to first base. By the time the third out eventually was recorded, the Giants had scored 10 runs—their total for the night, as they lashed to win 10-8.

Willie Mays contributed his third home run in two games.

St. Louis beat Los Angeles 6-2 Wednesday night to split their series.

"I don't feel too good about it, but I'll take it," said Sanford of his pitching victory. He needed relief in the eighth after being charged with six runs and Eddie Mathews.

The pitcher, in addition to

Larry Graves Named Head Grid Coach

Will Replace
Dehlinger at New London

NEW LONDON — Larry Graves has been named head football coach at New London High School.

His assistant will be Gary Buss. Graves, who has been the assistant football coach for several years, will replace Robert Dehlinger who has requested he be relieved of coaching duties.

Along with naming of the new coaches, Dehlinger was granted a leave of absence to attend an Army school which will enable him to qualify himself for future promotions while in the service program. His leave of absence will start May 4, and he will return to his teaching duties Sept. 21. During Dehlinger's absence his duties as physical education teacher will be assumed by Kenneth Renning. Mrs. Dan Maurice has been hired to take Renning's place as a history instructor.

Head football coaching duties will not be new to Graves. During the period when the 32nd Division, of which Dehlinger is a member, was activated Graves took over the helm of the club. Buss, who is completing his first year as a teacher and a coach in the New London school system, was the freshman football coach and head wrestling coach.

Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay heavyweight title fight.

A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said Tuesday night that after consultations with Liston it had decided that the government's tax interest would be adequately protected by a lien covering more than $800,000. The lien is against Liston and his wife, Geraldine.

Two liens against corporations which Liston has an interest in were released. The corporations are Intercontinental Promotions Inc., and Delaware Advertising and Management Agency Inc.

Liston lost his heavyweight crown to Clay in the Miami fight Feb. 25 but Intercontinental has exclusive promotional rights to Clay's next fight. This agreement was worked out the day before Liston and Clay entered the ring.

Giants Whip Braves, 10-8

took up the Braves pitching chore, and filled the bases by walking Tom Haller.

A single by Jim Hart scored one run, Kelley walked in another and Sanford's double sent in three. Walks and wild pitches accounted for the inning's last run, scored by Sanford. Phil Niekro came on to retire the Giants with a single pitch.

Bailey unloaded a solo homer in the fourth as the Braves tried to catch up. Singles by Lee Maye and Hank Aaron, and an infield out led to two fifth-inning Milwaukee runs, which crossed the plate on an error by Hart.

Shaw Pitches
A double by Aaron and Mathews' homer gave Milwaukee two more runs in the seventh. Milwaukee got its final runs in the eighth as Frank Bolling singled. After former Brave Bob Shaw replaced Sanford, pinch-batting Ty Cline singled. After Gene Oliver had fanned and Felipe Alou forced Cline, Maye singled to right to score Bolling and Alou. Maye got to third on a wild pitch and scored on an error.

Billy Hoelt, Jack Smith and Bob Tiefenauer limited the Giants to a single hit in the last five innings, but the damage had already been done.

Sadowski took the loss, and Sanford claimed the victory.

President Wants To Know Prospects For Railway Accord

Implies Monday Is Deadline For Voluntary Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bargaining talks aimed at averting a nationwide railroad strike were spurred on today by President Johnson's implied shorter deadline for a voluntary settlement.

"We should know definitely, not later than next Monday, whether the parties to this dispute will settle it by the process of bargaining and by responsible reason," Johnson said Wednesday.

"The country expects that answer to be yes," Johnson said after conferring privately with federal mediators and negotiators for five unions and nearly 200 railroads.

Doesn't Map Course
Johnson did not say what he might do if the talks fail, but he would have no power to halt a scheduled strike April 25 unless he asked Congress for special legislation.

The five-year dispute over wages, job classifications and working conditions had exhausted all provisions of federal law when Johnson won a 15-day strike postponement last Friday and set up the emergency bargaining talks.

"There is no settlement yet," Johnson said Wednesday on the sixth day of the talks, "and there can be no settlement until all issues are disposed of."

His reference to a definite decision by Monday was the first official indication that he will not let the entire 15-day postponement elapse without considering other steps.

"So far, there's been no threat of legislation," said George Reedy, White House press secretary.

"The principal question," Johnson said, "is whether these bargainers can, in 15 days, get over four years of the idea of somebody else settling their disagreements for them. I hope they can. I think they can."

He asked for another "definitive" report on the talks by this weekend.

The five train operating unions represent about 200,000 employees. They are protesting proposed railroad work - rules changes which they contend would amount to substantial pay cuts for many workers and eliminate many jobs.

Dogs' Hearts Movies Taken By Periscope

BY ALTON BLAKESLEE

CHICAGO (AP) — A surgeon showed scenes from thrilling movies taken inside the living heart with a new internal periscope today.

The periscope is thrust down a blood vessel into dogs' hearts. There, it lights up the interior of the heart, and walls, to take movies. A heart specialist then can look through the tube to see what is going on and decide whether surgery is needed to make heart repairs.

An improved, flexible, instrument now is being built, said Walter J. Gamble of Children's Hospital in Boston.

May Be Used on Humans
If it proves safe in animal tests, it will be used to inspect the interior of human hearts.

Dr. Gamble and Robert E. Innis of the American Optical Co., Southbridge, Mass., described the new instrument to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Just as a periscope allows the captain of a submarine to see the sky above him, the internal periscope can probe into a body organ without surgery.

Dr. Gamble has taken slow-motion movies of the aortic valve, which opens and closes as the heart pumps blood out into the body. And he has movies of the inside of the right upper chamber of the dog heart, the right and left lower chambers, and the valve between the upper and lower chambers on the right side.

Many Defects at Birth
Thousands of children are born with heart defects. The heart periscope inspection could show surgeons what had to be done before they operate.

Dr. Gamble said he had once had a peek at the aorta. In adults, inspection of that great artery might show whether it was affected by the "rust" that underlies heart attacks.

The periscope into dogs' hearts is only about half the roundness of a cigarette and 21 inches long. Through incisions in the neck of anesthetized dogs, it has been pushed gently down through blood vessels into the heart.

Husband Kills Wife, Shoots Self to Death

EAGLE RIVER (AP) — A woman returning home from bowling was shot and killed Wednesday night by her husband who then turned a shotgun on himself and died with the weapon gripped in his hand, according to Vilas County Coroner Ed Stahlman.

The deaths of Jack Maney, a carpenter, and his wife, Marge, both 36, were ruled by the coroner as murder and suicide.

The bodies were found on the front lawn at the couple's modern ranch home on the outskirts of Eagle River by their daughter, Margie, 16.

Appeal to Court Planned If Chief Executive Kills It After Assembly's Vote

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Senate, facing the prospect of a veto from Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds, has approved a legislative reapportionment bill that gives Waukesha County two more Assembly seats, but raises the Milwaukee County total by only one to 25.

The governor has said he will veto any bill that does not give 26 seats to strongly Democratic Milwaukee County, the state's population center.

The reapportionment bill, drafted by Sen. Jerris Leonard, R-Milwaukee, was passed after four hours of debate Wednesday as the Legislature hurried to meet a May 1 redistricting deadline set by the State Supreme Court. The court said last winter that if the job was not completed by that date, it would reapportion Senate and Assembly districts by May 15. The bill passed the Senate on a 22-11 vote.

Senate Acts Quickly
"This is a good plan," Leonard told the Senate. "If it is passed by the Assembly and vetoed by the governor I will intervene in the Supreme Court and urge that the court adopt this plan."

The Senate acted on reapportionment soon after hearing a fiscal address by Reynolds, who said he anticipated a surplus of $50.5 million and urged that nearly half of it be used to ease property taxes for persons over 65.

"He puts us in a very difficult position," said Robert Haase, the Assembly's Republican speaker from Marinette. "He knows very well the surplus figures he used are not proper."

While other spokesmen for the Republicans, who hold majorities in both the Senate and Assembly, called the governor's speech a "pie in the sky conceit," Reynolds took his appeal to the public.

Veterans Hear Reynolds
Speaking to the Wisconsin Veterans Council at Madison Wednesday night, he said, "Just about every living veteran of World War I is 65 years of age or older" and would be eligible for the homestead tax relief program.

The governor said that World War I veterans, and others in the same age bracket, have retired but their property taxes have not dropped with their incomes. "Many of your fellow veterans are still in the service," he said.

Editors Study Bar's Efforts To Curb News

Greatly Concerned Over Plans to Limit News Reporting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's editors were told today there is "cause for great concern" in the rising clamor in legal circles for tighter curbs on news reporting of the courts.

The Committee on Freedom of Information of the American Society of Newspaper Editors warned that the proposed restrictions, "although aimed primarily at television," could damage all news coverage.

Invited to Press Session
The committee headed by Creed C. Black, executive editor of the Wilmington (Del.) Morning News and Evening Journal, prepared the report for today's opening session of ASNE's three-day annual convention.

The nearly 500 editors registered for the meeting were invited as guests at President Johnson's late afternoon news conference in the large State Department auditorium.

TV Adds to Problem
The freedom of information report attributed the restrictive proposals by legal groups partly to the "tragic and turbulent events at Dallas"—the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the televised murder of Lee Harvey Oswald and the hectic trial that convicted Jack Ruby as Oswald's murderer.

"Of more lasting concern to us is a broader—and relatively new—element in this perennial controversy which deserves no less attention from us than it is

Worker Killed When 45-Foot Pole Snaps

RACINE (AP)—John Hansen, 21, of Franksville, an employee of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., was killed Wednesday when a 45-foot pole on which he was working snapped at the center.

He was on the top half of the pole which plunged to the ground along Highway 20. Hansen had been removing wire from atop the pole, which was to be removed. A guide cable broke and the pole snapped. The bottom half toppled on a passing auto, but the driver was not injured.

Middle-Road Policy Pledged To Brazilians

Curb on Leftists, Reactionary Right, President Promises

BY ROBERT BERRELLEZ

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — Brazil's new military president has promised a moderate regime in which "remedies for left-wing extremism will not give birth to a reactionary right."

Gen. Humberto Castello Branco, 63, was inaugurated Wednesday to serve 21 months remaining in the term of leftist President Joao Goulart, deposed April 1 in a coup led by Castello Branco, then army chief of staff.

"All democratic and free nations will be our allies," said the new president, "just as all those people who desire to be free and want representative democracy can count on Brazil's support."

Break With Cuba Hinted
This was considered by some to hint at a diplomatic break with Cuba, which conservative political leaders have been demanding since Goulart's overthrow.

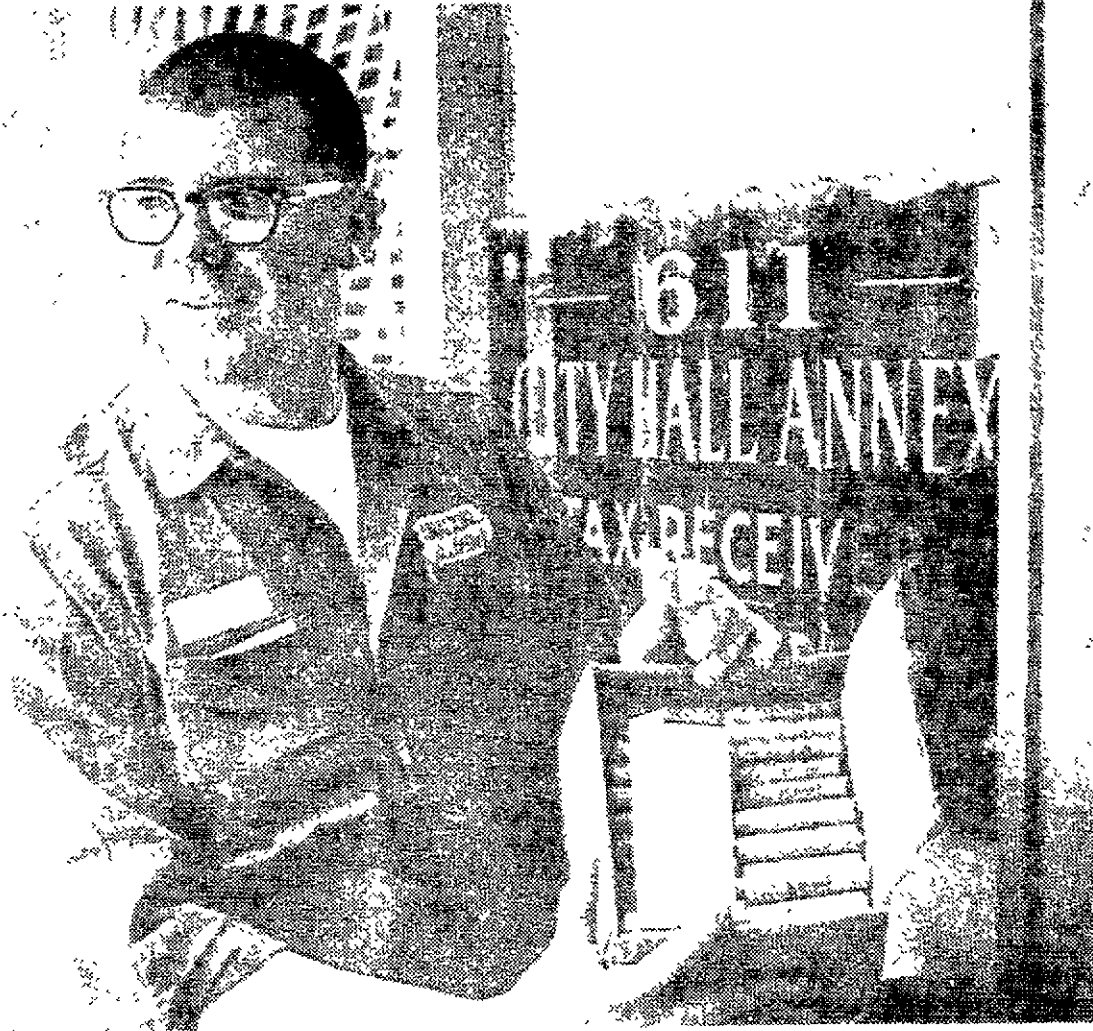

Cheers and applause from the packed Chamber of Deputies greeted Castello Branco's 17-minute inaugural address, which was viewed as shifting

Rules School Buses Not For Private Interests

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin school districts cannot lease buses they own to private interests for transporting children to the district's school and on extracurricular and field trips, Atty. Gen. George Thompson held today.

There is no provision in the law to permit a school district to lease its buses on a contract charge basis, Thompson said in an opinion requested by State Superintendent Angus B. Rothwell.

George R. Pike showed up at the tax collector's office Wednesday with 9,655 pennies to pay his street assessment bill. Pike, somehow, felt the city was to blame because water seeped into his basement during the recent flood so he retaliated with the pennies. There were 193 rolls in all and the city made him sign each one before leaving. (AP Wirephoto)

Civil Rights Backers Hit at Disturbances

Declare Violence Harmful to Their Efforts to Pass Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican and Democratic senators charged with shepherding the civil rights bill through the Senate have warned that illegal demonstrations and disturbances that lead to violence "are hurting our efforts."

The statement was issued Wednesday night by Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., after proposals by splinter civil rights groups for disrupting traffic to the New York World's Fair and other disorders.

Blow to Legislation
The two senators declared: "Illegal disturbances, demonstrations which lead to violence or injury, strike grievous blows at the cause of decent civil rights legislation."

"Unruly demonstrations and protests that bring hardship and unnecessary inconvenience to others—even by those who have long suffered indignities—are not helping the cause of civil rights," the statement said.

As the Senate debate stretched into its 32nd session today, Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., joined senators who are urging amendment of the House-passed bill.

Cotton said in a statement he would vote for cloture—to cut off debate on the measure so that it can be voted on—but not until real consideration is given to corrective amendments.

Roy Cohn Case Scheduled for U. S. Jury Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The case of Roy M. Cohn and Murray E. Gottesman, New York lawyers, goes to a U. S. District Court jury of 10 men and 2 women today.

Cohn, 37, onetime aide to the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., is charged with perjury and obstruction of justice. Gottesman, 56, is charged with perjury.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Gerald Walpin urged the jury to disregard defense contentions that the government had made a deal with confessed stock swindlers to "get" Cohn.

Cohn has testified that some persons in the Department of Justice were trying to "get" him. Before the trial started, Cohn charged publicly that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was a leader of a "vendetta" against him.

The main issue in the trial, Walpin said, is whether Cohn and Gottesman obstructed a 1962 federal grand jury investigation. The grand jury was seeking to determine whether anything improper had been done during the government's investigation of the United Dye and Chemical Corp. stock fraud case in 1959.

Hussein Airs Arab Concern Over Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan, ending his talks here today, has joined President Johnson in expressing hope for a "just peace" in the Middle East but has also voiced Arab concern with U.S. policy in that area.

Hussein, who goes to New York next, declared that American policy toward "the tragedy of Palestine has been distressing."

Appearing as the spokesman for 13 Arab nations at a public luncheon Wednesday arranged by the Citizens Committee on American Policy in the Middle East, Hussein said Americans are not adequately informed about one million Arab refugees whom he said had been "forcibly uprooted" by Israel from their homes in Palestine.

It is time, he declared, for the United States to take a new look at the problem and added that "adherents of the Jewish faith" should search their souls on "the whole problem of Zionism" that can "engulf them and others in a senseless and ruthless calamity."

A mine official said rescuers had no indication whether McCoy was alive.

Victim Put in Security Cell Earlier After Setting Blaze

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A 15-year old boy admitted to the Milwaukee detention center a month ago as "uncontrollable," died Wednesday when his cell was swept by a fire authorities said he had started.

He was Thomas Snyder, one of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder of Milwaukee. Authorities at the County Children's Center in suburban Wauwatosa, said the boy had been placed in the security cell Tuesday night after he was found burning comic books in his room. The security cell is called "the rock" and "solitary" by the young inmates.

Robert F. Perkins, superintendent of the detention home, said that matches had been taken from the boy when he was placed in the security unit.

Officials said only four persons had contact with the boy since he was placed alone in the cell. Two of them were questioned and denied giving matches.

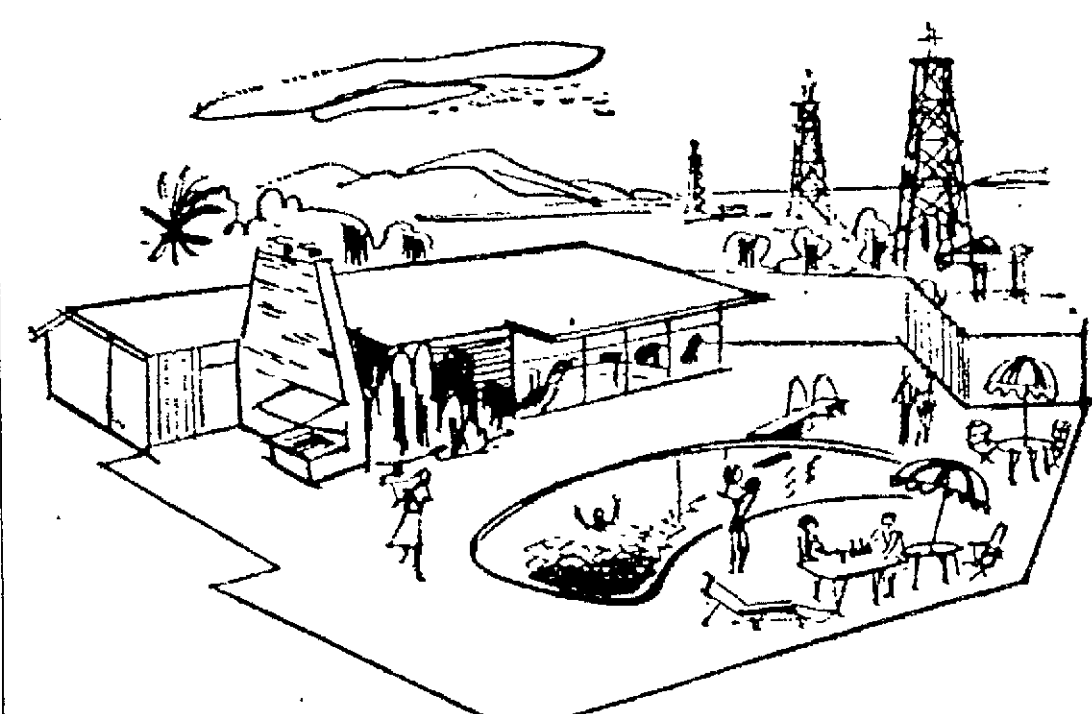

The boy was found unconscious on a rubber padded mattress in the six by nine foot cell, which has plywood panel walls and rubber tile on the floor. A bunk was the only furniture in the room.

Perkins said he and another administrator smelled smoke 25 minutes after the latest check on Snyder's cell. Andrew Lewis, assistant superintendent of the detention home, said he pulled the boy from the cell.

Fire Extinguished
Thick smoke forced them to move the boy to the basement, where efforts to revive him were continued until he was taken to the nearby County General Hospital.

The intense fire was extinguished within an hour by the county institutions fire department and the Wauwatosa Fire Department. An adjacent office and hallway were damaged extensively. Damage was estimated at $5,000 by Harold Nourse, the institution's fire chief.

Fire authorities evacuated 22 girls and 60 boys from the detention home.

'Propaganda' Charge Denied

Sketch in Income Tax Pamphlet Arouses Anger in Oil Districts

BY BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—No one has ever been known to break out laughing while preparing his income tax, but the Internal Revenue Service likes to pretend things aren't all that dreary.

So this year, that handy but terribly dull pamphlet, "Your Federal Income Tax," was spruced up with sketches.

You could almost sense a note of accomplishment all the way up to Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin.

But an illustration accompanying an explanation of "oil, gas and mineral depletion" struck a sour note.

Depicted is a ranch-style house, oil derricks off in the distance, curved swimming pools and girls in bathing suits front and center.

Protests to Caplin
Minor S. Jameson Jr., executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, wrote Caplin the implication is clear "that the affluent life with private swimming pools is made possible, apparently exclusively, by the depletion provisions in the tax laws."

"Propaganda," said Jameson, "which you find objectionable will not be used in the future."

to relate swimming pools and bikinis to oil and gas wells."

Oil country newspapers joined the protest. So did Sen. John Tower, R-Tex.

Caplin insisted he is innocent. The picture was intended only "to add interest and readability to the text," he wrote Jameson.

not as "propaganda against the oil and gas depletion provisions."

But the nation's No. 1 tax collector isn't in the kind of job that collects friends. So Caplin also thought it best to advise Jameson that "the illustration which you find objectionable will not be used in the future."

Bonduel Posts 6-3 Victory Over Shawano

Drage, Wartman
Hold Indians to
3 Hits in Opener

BONDUEL—The Bonduel High School baseball team opened the season with a 6-3 non-conference victory over Shawano Wednesday afternoon at the Shawano field.

Strong pitching by Leon Drage and John Wartman led the Bears to the win. Drage worked the first four innings and recorded six strikeouts while walking two batters. Wartman went the last three frames, was credited with the victory and had five strikeouts while walking three.

Wayne Darling, the second of four Shawano hurlers, was charged with the loss.

Bonduel scored four runs in the sixth inning and added a pair in the seventh. Dave Genke had a triple in the sixth and later in the same frame Jim Ziegler also slammed a triple which drove in a pair of runs. Shawano was limited to three singles, two of which were of the scratch variety.

Outagamie Police Criticize Reynolds

Take Issue With Remarks on Inadequacy of County Patrols

BY RAY PY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Letters to Gov. John Reynolds expressing shock and amazement at statements allegedly made last week in Milwaukee which labeled county traffic patrols throughout the state as "lousy" have been sent to Madison by local county law enforcement authorities.

Outagamie County Patrol Capt. Ronald Decker said in a letter sent Tuesday that "we would expect you to correct the false information and impression that your statements demonstrate."

Democratic Sheriff Calvin Spice, a former county patrolman, stated he was "greatly shocked by your statement to the press regarding Wisconsin State Patrol and Wisconsin county patrol officers."

Under Fire

Reynolds has been under fire since Friday when he said he would send a program on highway safety and highway construction to the legislature this week. In the statement, Reynolds said it was his view that many county traffic officers sat in their offices waiting for accident calls, instead of patrolling roads to prevent accidents.

"You'll find that some county traffic officers are issuing only 50 tickets a year while a state patrolman is issuing 500 tickets," the governor is alleged to have said.

Reynolds has favored a program in which the county traffic patrols would be absorbed into the state patrol. The program has met disfavor with most county boards throughout the state.

Decker said the Outagamie County traffic patrol "enjoys the respect of the citizens and driving public." Decker said he is compelled to register "strong objection" to the statements made by the governor. The captain said his department has cooperated with the state patrol "and that we have had no difficulties whatsoever."

"Much Concerned"

Spice stated he found "it incomprehensible to understand how a man of your integrity can make such detrimental statements about any officer or group of officers without first knowing all the facts."

Spice said that all law enforcement groups are very much concerned with the mounting highway death toll and "we all know that more stringent traffic laws and a better enforcement program will do much to prevent the toll from mounting even higher."

Protests earlier against the statement were registered by a spokesman for the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Associations who said the allegations were "an unwarranted slap in the face."

Waupaca Area Schools Elect For County Day

Students Will Take Over Courthouse In April 30 Event

WAUPACA — All seven high schools in Waupaca County are taking part in the elections of delegates to the American Legion sponsored "County Government Day" April 30 in the courthouse, Frank Smith, Waupaca, and Richard Zuege, New London, co-chairmen, announced.

Each high school will elect a county judge, county clerk, clerk of courts, sheriff, coroner, register of deeds and county treasurer for the event.

Judge Wendell McHenry will swear in the high school delegates immediately after registration. This will be followed by a court program with Judge McHenry, Dist. Atty. Gerald K. Anderson, Albert Anderson, clerk of courts, Assemblyman Richard Peterson and Atty. Richard E. Johnson participating.

Serve Dinner

Dinner will be served at the Trinity Lutheran Church parlors, followed by a talk by Mrs. Alan Gunderson, Shiocton, national American Legion Auxiliary executive committee woman.

The afternoon program will start at 1:30 p.m. when the visiting students will spend time with the county officers they were elected to "replace".

Discuss Board

The program will conclude with a program in the county board room where Robert Backer, county clerk, will discuss county board and county board procedures.

Supv. Carl Sturm, Manawa, chairman of the board, and Supv. Kenneth Egan, Town of Lebanon, vice chairman, have been invited to take part in the program.

Walther Unit Stages Rally

More Than 100 From Waupaca, Shawano Counties at Meeting

BOWLER — Forty persons from St. Martin Lutheran Church were among the more than 100 Walther League members, guests and counselors from Birnamwood, Mattoon, Clintonville, Caroline, Embarrass and Tigerton registered at the Zone Walther League Spring rally here Sunday.

The Rev. Robert King, pastor of St. Philip Lutheran Church, Chicago, gave a brief slide lecture on his trip to Moscow. His presentation was based on the concept that "No Man Is An Island." He said, "Man was created a social being in need, and needed by, his fellowman regardless of his color or race."

Lead Devotions

Youth from the host society or Bowler led devotions on the overall theme of "No Man Is An Island."

A Bible quiz fashioned after a television quiz show was held on the Book of Esther. Representing the St. Martin League were Ken Christian, Paula Kirchner, Mary Lynn Tanty and Dennis Crowe. Wittenberg won the traveling trophy for this year.

The business meeting was conducted by Ernie Berndt, zone president. Miss Marion Beilke, district Walther League president, gave a slide lecture on "Worship Is Living."

Give Scholarship

The Rev. Aaron Schultz, Tigerton, the circuit pastoral advisor, awarded Miss Habeck of Embarrass the LSV scholarship.

A scavenger hunt and action songs were held throughout the afternoon. Ed Miller was the toastmaster for the buffet-style supper hour.

The local group of St. Martin Church will be host to the League's birthday party May 24. Madge Mack, Clintonville, is zone Christian growth chairman.

Architect Instructed To Design School

New London Board to Review Preliminary Plans in 60 Days

NEW LONDON — The New London board of education Tuesday instructed school architect Edgar A. Stubenrauch to start drawing preliminary plans for the new high school.

Stubenrauch was told to design a school for $1.4 million, which will be adequate to house 900 students with 100,000 square feet of classroom space. He was also given permission to consult the State Department of Public Instruction while preparing the plans.

Voters of the New London district approved the bonding of the district for the $1.4 million at the April 7 election.

The school will be located in the northwest portion of the Werner - Allen site, south of Washington Street. In locating the school on the site, Stubenrauch was instructed to allow enough space for a track.

No Target Date

The board was told that the $1.4 million will include architects' fees and a contingency fund.

Preliminary plans are expected to be completed and ready for board approval within 60 days. A target date for the completion of final plans has not been set but after they are completed, construction of the new school is expected to take two years.

Specifications for two new 60-passenger buses also were approved by the board. Bids on the vehicles will be opened May 12. Lester Werner, business manager, was instructed to get quotations on a nine - passenger unit and a car which will be added to the school fleet. The vehicles will be used by teachers and for taking athletes home after practice.

Delegates to Convention to be Picked by GOP

MANAWA — The list of delegates to the state Republican party convention will be completed during a meeting of the Waupaca County GOP executive committee Tuesday night at Jannusch's Supper Club, according to Carl Dretzke, county chairman.

Dretzke said the committee also will outline the program for the campaigning in the county.

Dretzke appointed Stewart Craig, Manawa, to serve as county chairman of the Warren P. Knowles for Governor campaign and Mrs. Laura Peterson, Waupaca, as chairman of the Jack E. Olson for Lieutenant Governor.

Walter Gleason, Clintonville, was named to the district meeting to be county chairman of Wilbur Renk for Senator campaign. The Waupaca County GOP Women have a dinner meeting for Renk scheduled April 30.

Weyauwega Hears School District Plan

Nine Teachers Quit at Chilton

Resignations Okayed By Board; Approve Summer Instructions

CHILTON — Nine teachers at the high school here will not be returning next year, a report by Superintendent A. W. Gordon shows.

They are Darrell Gilow, vocal music; Ralph Layman, guidance counselor; Mrs. Thomas Keough, English; Sherman Van Drisse, English; Mrs. Richard Werblow, home economics; Joyce Olson, business education; Thomas Thostenson, seventh grade; Mrs. Erma Hill, librarian, and Luan Halverson, third grade.

Reasons for the instructors not returning ranged from continuing education in graduate school to getting married.

New Teachers

Gordon reported to the board that three new teachers have been hired for the 1964-65 school term.

These teachers are in English, seventh grade and third grade. The board approved a summer session beginning in June.

Summer Course

Offered during the summer session will be behind-the-wheel driver training, typing and remedial reading.

Also approved was a transportation contract for a handicapped child to a special school in Green Bay. The state pays for the tuition but the transportation is the district's responsibility.

High School Library Uses JC Book List

CLINTONVILLE — The U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce "Good Reading for Youth," young adults book list is being featured this week during National Library Week at the high school library's paperback book fair.

The list of paperback books, mostly adult books of interest to young people, has been selected by a committee of the American Library association, Young Adult Services division. Committee members are Margaret C. Scoggin and Lillian Morrison of the New York Public library.

The list has been supplemented with those titles listed in the ALA-YASD "Outstanding Fiction for College Bound Students" which are also available in paperback edition.

Waupaca Grass Fire

WAUPACA — The Waupaca fire department was called at 4:50 p.m. Wednesday to extinguish a grass fire at the city dump.

Electors Hear State Proposal at Informational Meeting; Majority Of Electors Want Reorganization

WEYAUWEGA — A reorganizational study of the Weyauwega Union High School district was explained to district electors at an informational meeting Tuesday night.

A proposal calls for a kindergarten through 12th grade district. It was prepared by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Following an explanation of the study by H. James Ramsdell, superintendent, a straw vote was taken of the over 100 people in attendance and the results were 73 in favor of continuing work on studying and reorganizing the district, compared to 13 no votes.

Big Advantage

One of the biggest advantages of reorganizing the district, Ramsdell said, would be the increase in state aids amounting to an additional $40,731. The district, if reorganized, would receive integrated aids instead of the present basic aids.

Along with the financial advantages, a much improved educational program could be offered. Ramsdell said the plan would make it possible to upgrade and equalize educational opportunity for all children of the district.

Listing some of the advantages, he included the extension of a half day kindergarten for all the 5-year-old children of the district, special services in art, music and physical education, improved library services, the use of staff personnel in coordinating the testing and guidance program, planning a sequence of course offerings and services in all operating schools of the proposed district.

Along with these advantages, Ramsdell said, the establishment of teacher loads would lead to better teaching and learning results.

Schools Involved

Schools which would be involved would be Lynwood, Galilee, Baldwin's Mill, Evanswood, Stanley's Landing, Fremont, White Lake, Weyauwega, West Bloomfield, Tustin and Wolf River.

The brochure includes a breakdown of the elementary operating budget for each school, the tax rate paid along with the amount and rate paid for the union high school and capital outlay and debt retirement along with what the rates would be if the district were reorganized.

Using 1962 figures, the equalized valuation of the district is $20,561,100. The present operating costs for the schools in the district, including the high school, is $325,096. This includes capital outlay and debt retirement.

If reorganized, the cost would be $314,173, or a saving of $10,923. Taking an average of the entire district, it would mean a drop of 3.4 per cent in taxes. This does not hold true, however, for all elementary districts because the rate increases and decreases from one district to another vary from 28.4 per cent to a decrease of 24.7 per cent.

If reorganized, four elementary attendance centers are proposed. Using existing locations, they would be Evanswood, Fremont, Weyauwega and Wolf River schools. Fremont and Weyauwega would be kindergarten through eighth; Wolf River, kindergarten through sixth grade, and Evanswood center, unknown at this time. Transportation would be provided for all students.

H. C. Peters, president of the High School Board of Education, said the district can be reorganized by petitioning the county school committee or by a vote of the district electors.

County Board Officers Will Be Elected

New Supervisors To be Introduced At Tuesday Session

WAUPACA — Election of a chairman and vice chairman will highlight the opening session of the annual organizational meeting of the Waupaca County Board at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the courthouse.

Supv. Carl Sturm, Manawa, is board chairman and Supv. Kenneth Egan, Town of Lebanon, is vice chairman.

Animal Bounties

Two new members of the board will be introduced. They are Bill Donaldson, (Clintonville 5th), who replaces John Devaud, who was elected county treasurer by the county board, and James Milbauer (Marion 3rd), who defeated Fred Hofman in the spring election.

There will be reports from the state on animal bounties and highway aids, from the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission, dance hall inspectors, and a petition for a bridge by the Town of Little Wolf.

An address by V. A. Verhulst, director of supervision, division of correction, State Department of Public Welfare, will be made during the day.

Black Creek, Seymour Churches Set Meeting

BLACK CREEK — The final quarterly conference of the church year for Black Creek and Seymour Methodist churches will be held in the Seymour church at 8 p.m. Monday.

The Rev. Clarence Kelly, superintendent of the Green Bay District is in charge.

Hanson Asks Another Look At Red China

State Democratic Chairman Addresses Lawrence Group

Another look at recognizing Red China "without the burdens of 15-year-old thinking" was called for Tuesday night by State Democratic Party Chairman Louis Hanson who spoke at a meeting of Young Democrats at Lawrence College.

Hanson said the recognition of Red China "is another example of something that was done years ago and is affecting our current policies."

Hanson said as liberals, Democrats should recognize "changes that are being brought about in Russia by Russians themselves." He pointed to what he termed a "beginning of democracy" in some Khrushchev policies "in which he is giving things to people and not imposing on people." He cited the Khrushchev regime as "the first in a long time in Russian history where the people are being considered."

Wheat Deal

Hanson cited the current wheat negotiations as another example of how Russian living is changing. He said Khrushchev has agreed to tell his people where the wheat is coming from and to explain to the people that purchase of wheat is necessary "because his way of agriculture has failed."

The party chairman said the main difference between the Democratic Party and the Republican Party is that Democrats recognize the value of human rights before property rights. He said this philosophy is proper for most progressive thinking people.

He called for quick action on a state housing law, first, he said, because it is a moral issue and no person should be denied the right to rent or purchase a home where he pleases, and second, because without a proper housing bill, ghettos form of races or creeds who are forced to live in "boxed off areas" which quickly become over crowded and have to expand.

Current Practices

Hanson said current "real estate practices" in the state "separate Americans from Americans."

Since Democrats have come into power after 1948, Hanson said progress has been made by the state in such areas as welfare, conservation, regional planning and education. He said previous governments were a "caretaker" government in which the taxes were collected "and merely handed back to communities for their use."

Hanson said state governments "must do for people what they are not able to do for themselves."

Police Investigate Break-ins at Menasha Home, Warehouse

MENASHA — Police are investigating two break-ins here this week and one theft.

Milton Liess, 411 Lowell Road, Neenah, reported someone broke into the J. Stone and Sons warehouse at the rear of St. Thomas Church and took a check writer valued at $50. The check writer plate contained the name of M. Liess Co.

Entry was gained by forcing an outer door and unhooking an inner door. Nothing else was reported missing.

Eric Isakson, 340 Lake Road, Menasha, reported someone broke into his house while the family was on vacation recently. Missing is a gold box, value undetermined. Isakson said ink was thrown over the bedspread of his son's bedroom and many articles were disturbed in the house and garage.

Betty Mauthe, 201½ Kaukauna St., Menasha, reported her son's bicycle stolen Tuesday.

Pound Entered, 35 Dogs Released Police Believe

Outagamie County Sheriff authorities said there was evidence that someone had entered the Outagamie County Humane Society dog pound near Mackville and released 35 dogs Monday night or early Tuesday morning.

Sheriff Lt. Jack Zuelzke said an investigation at the pound showed that locks had been tripped which released the dogs from their individual pens. Entry may have been made by breaking a window.

County police and humane society personnel rounded up the dogs. One dog, a collie, was killed as it crossed Quarry Road.

It was believed earlier that wind had blown the doors of the pound open releasing the dogs. Zuelzke said there was nothing missing from the pound.

The society has offered a reward for information leading to the arrest of the violators.

Communities In Valley Get State Road Aid

$333,197 Allotted For Street Work in Four-County Region

Fox Valley communities are receiving the first 1964 payments from the state for improvements to local public roads and streets.

Payments to every Wisconsin city village and town total $6.2 million for 57,245 measured miles of town roads; 7,957 miles of city streets, and 2,222 miles of village streets.

A total of $333,197 is being distributed in Outagamie, Calumet, Winnebago and Waupaca counties. This figure includes:

Outagamie — $118,881 — Appleton, $57,852; Kaukauna, $9,146; New London, $820; Seymour, $1,073; Villages of Bear Creek, $237; Black Creek, $230; Combined Locks, $409; Hortonville, $312; Kimberly, $924; Little Chute, $941; Shiocton, $228; and 20 towns, $46,705.

Calumet — $37,811 — Appleton, $3,455; Brillion, $789; Chilton, $1,673; Kiel, $119; New Holstein, $1,281; villages of Hilbert, $300; Stockbridge, $230; and nine towns, $29,961.

Winnebago — $109,606 — Menasha, $10,153; Neenah, $16,572; Oshkosh, $51,600; Omro, $1,392; village of Winneconne, $668; and 16 towns, $29,218.

Waupaca — $66,898 — Clintonville, $2,730; Manawa, $629; Marion, $908; New London, $2,593; Waupaca, $2,567; Weyauwega, $1,331; villages of Big Falls, $87; Embarras, $141; Fremont, $290; Iola, $249; Ogdensburg, $125; Scandinavia, $200; and 22 towns, $55,042.

The allotment is made for all public roads and streets certified as being open and used for travel excepting state and county trunk highways and connecting streets.

About one-fifth of the counties are inventoried each year to determine the exact mileage open for public travel.

Neenah Woman Hurt In Auto Accident

Miss Laura J. Pulda, 34, a resident of the nurses quarters at Theda Clark Hospital, was treated at Theda Clark Tuesday night for mouth cuts after the car she was driving struck two parked cars on E. Fremont Street.

Miss Pulda told Appleton police she was turning off S. Oneida Street onto Fremont and reached for a package when she collided with the parked cars. The accident occurred about 6 p.m.

Chilton High School AFS Unit Elects New Officers

CHILTON — Officers for 1964-65 in the American Field Service Club at the high school were elected last week.

They are Virginia Engler, president; Carmen Winkler, vice president; Janice Woelfel, secretary; and Ruth Holst, treasurer.

Presiding over the club during its first year at the school were Bette Uhlenbrauck, president; Steve Larson, vice president; Jeanne Hoffman, secretary, and Tom Fox and Tom Hilbert, co-treasurers.

The new officers will work with the outgoing officers for the remainder of the year.

Xavier Brothers Plan Banquet to Aid Province Education Fund

$50-a-Plate Event Will be First Finance Effort Since Order Began Staffing School

Christian Brothers of Xavier High School will hold a $50-a-plate benefit banquet Sunday to raise funds for education and formation of young brothers.

The banquet will be the first formal fund-raising effort of the Xavier Christian Brothers since they began staffing the boys' department of the high school in 1959.

The banquet will be at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in the Country Aire Club.

The banquet will be "the community's first public acknowledgement of the Christian Brothers and their contribution to the city of Appleton," Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hoffer, general chairman, said in a letter to Xavier parents.

Brother Peter, Xavier director, explained the Appleton brothers have been assessed $8 per boy enrolled by their Winona Province for operational costs. This money is used for the education and formation of boys preparing to become brothers, and for the facilities they need.

In past years the Xavier brothers have solicited funds only from parents of their students. But the burden is becoming "increasingly great," Brother Peter said, and this year the benefit banquet was planned "to give more civic-minded people an opportunity to help in the education of teachers for the benefit of the Appleton community."

Other Contributions

Persons who do not attend the banquet also may contribute to the Christian Brothers Educational Endowment Fund, he said. This fund takes a brother through his novitiate year, four years of college, and work to complete his master's degree after one year of teaching experience.

The brothers have educated almost 1,000 Appleton boys in their five years at Xavier High School.

Blowing Horn

"We feel we are not blowing our horn unnecessarily," Brother Peter said. "The Fox Valley Lutheran High School teachers also are dedicated and should be acknowledged. Any teacher, private or public, is doing a tremendous thing for the community."

Main speaker at the banquet will be Brother J. Raymond of St. Mary's College, who will speak on "A Christian Brother" and also will serve as master of ceremonies.

Guests will include Brother I. Basil, provincial of the Winona

Tipsy Driver Goes to Jail

Rural Appleton Man Fails to Pay Fine, Gets 60 Days

LITTLE CHUTE — Carson T. Curtis, 26, route 4, Appleton, pleaded guilty of operating a vehicle while under the influence of an intoxicant. He appeared before Anton Jansen, municipal justice, Wednesday night.

Curtis took 60 days in the county jail rather than pay a $100 fine, and had his driver's license revoked for one year. He was arrested Sunday night after police had noticed him earlier and warned him not to drive on village streets.

Council Meeting

WAUPACA — A special meeting of the city council is scheduled at 5 p.m. today in city hall to discuss an application for a house trailer permit, according to Mayor Lloyd Matheson.

District; Brother J. Damfian, assistant provincial of the St. Louis Province; the 11 brothers from Xavier, the seven Appleton Catholic pastors, the Xavier sisters and other Appleton residents.

GOP Support for Tax Relief Likely

Reynolds Wants Legislature to Give Break to Elderly People

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Gov. John Reynolds has a better chance of getting legislative backing for his plan to relieve the elderly of some of their property tax worries than for any of the other major legislative proposals he is unexpectedly sending to the legislature.

Preliminary soundings indicate the Democratic governor has found substantial support for the property tax reduction scheme among rank and file Republicans who are in control of both legislative houses. Many of those members, scouting for campaign themes in their fall re-election bids, share the governor's view that the program will have a sure-fire interest among elderly voters who are steadily becoming a more powerful voting bloc.

Persons over 65 now account for over 11 per cent of the state population. The ratio of elderly persons in the electorate is substantially higher.

Not Optimistic
Legislators on the whole are not as optimistic as Reynolds about the prospects for higher revenue collection by the state treasury, however, and are not likely to adopt a tax relief program of the scope asked by Reynolds.

His plan would cost at least $20 million a year. A Republican alternative will be offered that will be somewhat more restrictive. There is also a concern among Republican legislative leaders who expect to return to their seats next year about the commitment such legislation would involve for future state expenditures. All forecasts indicate that the financing problem of the state in the next biennium will be difficult, without such additional liability as is involved in a state pledge to pick up a part of the property tax bills of the elderly.

Other major Reynolds hopes for significant new legislation appear difficult, if not impossible to realize in this legislature. The governor has said he hopes to cutback his original highway construction acceleration scheme, through a plan for borrowing that would allow a speeding up of the construction schedule on the federal Interstate system.

But comments of representatives legislators indicate that there is no disposition among them to quarrel with the resounding popular vote against such a program as shown in the highway bonding referendum last week which also asked for popular reaction to a higher motor fuel tax to finance the borrowing.

Reynolds expects to bring in a special message asking for stronger highway safety legislation, including voluntary transfers of county traffic officers to the State Patrol, a compulsory motor vehicle inspection law, and possibly additional manpower and equipment for the State Patrol.

Some of those measures may be favorably considered, in part because Republican majority legislators are aware of the interest in the highway safety problem shown in campaign speeches by Warren P. Knowles, the prospective GOP nominee for governor.

Legion Auxiliary Names Essay, Poster Winners

LITTLE CHUTE—Winners of the Americanism essay contest and poppy poster contest were announced by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Winning essay medals in group 1 were Patricia Look and Janet Wynboom while winners in group 2 were Margaret Weyenberg and Betty Verhagen. First place winners in the two age groups of the poster contest were Jayne Bouressa and Beth Sommers. Second place went to Laverne Van Groll and Nancy Hietpas and third to Beverly Hietpas and Ronald Van Thull.

Approval was given to a $25 donation to the Alaskan relief fund. Mrs. Lewis McCormick was named general chairman for the county council dinner May 12 with Mrs. Sylvan Lamers to head the reservation and ticket committee.

Named to the entertainment committee were Mrs. Robert Jansen and Mrs. Frank Hermensen Jr. and the decorations will be handled by Mrs. Paul Dercks and Mrs. William Winus. Six members of the Junior Auxiliary will be solicited to aid in serving the dinner.

'Beady Eye' Horse Has Pipe Cleaner Body Parts

BY CAPPY DICK

Pipe cleaner horses that have pieces of cork for hoofs are fun to make.

A completed horse is shown in Figure 1. Note that one colorful bead will serve as the horse's eye because it will be visible from both sides of the funny little animal.

The parts needed to form a horse are shown in Figure 2 which also shows how three of the pipe cleaners are to be bent.

The head, neck, back and tail are one pipe cleaner. Two other cleaners form the four legs. A fourth cleaner is wrapped around the three to hold them together and form the horse's body.

The cork hoofs are easy to attach to the ends of the legs by pressing the pipe cleaners into them, then reinforcing with glue.

The bead for the eye may be outlying fire stations and will be conducted at the Appleton Police Station from Monday until Friday from 3:30 until 5:30 p.m. Sales on Saturday are made from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Police have asked that purchasers bring along their bicycle or a 1963 registration form, if it is made out for the same bicycle.

Bicycle riders who have not registered by April 25 will be subject to summons and must appear at Saturday morning bicycle court. Bicycles without licenses violate a city ordinance. Registrations are necessary to aid police in tracing stolen or lost bicycles.

Over 5,100 licenses have been sold. Police estimate there are 13,900 bicycles unregistered.

Cadillac

AN INTERNATIONAL CELEBRITY ARRIVES AT THE FAIR

The occasion is the New York World's Fair... the scene is the spectacular General Motors Futurama—and the car, of course, is Cadillac.

And the Cadillac car is a standout attraction even in this distinguished international company. Drive any of eleven 1964 models and you'll discover why.

There's Cadillac's magnificent and silent power. A 340-horsepower V-8 engine—most powerful in Cadillac history—generates performance so swiftly that we caution even long-time Cadillac owners to mind their speedometers. There is, in addition, the remarkable smoothness of our transmissions—an improved Hydra-Matic or new Turbo Hydra-Matic.

There is the luxury of elegantly appointed interiors, together with the great convenience of power brakes and steering (plus power windows on most models) that have turned the 600-mile day into a restful reality.

And there is also investment. Find a fine car, if you can, that returns more than your Cadillac when you choose to sell or trade it.

Visit your Cadillac dealer soon. His selection of international favorites has never been more tempting.

Sabin Sunday Coming Up

Another "Sabin on Sunday" is coming up for Outagamie County residents and now might be a good time to mark the date—Sunday, April 19—on the calendar. We are confident county residents again will respond to the second and final phase of the polio immunization clinics. Last month an estimated 94,000 persons of all ages received their first dose of oral Sabin vaccine.

Sunday the teams organized by the County Medical Society and other co-operating groups will administer types

II and III in one dose. There will be no after effects and the immunization cycle then will be completed.

Although you may have received the dose of type I, it is imperative the other two types also be received to provide permanent protection against the dread disease which took its toll of thousands throughout the country, including many in Wisconsin, less than a decade ago.

For health's sake, be sure and participate in the Sabin on Sunday finale April 19.

Title IV—Desegregation of Public Education

Title IV of the Civil Rights Bill, concerning desegregation of public education, is reproduced in toto elsewhere on this page today. Desegregation is defined as "the assignment of students to public schools and within such schools without regard to their race, color, religion, or national origin."

A very important addition to the definition was made by the House. It reads that "desegregation shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance."

The title has two main purposes. First it would authorize the Commissioner of Education to provide, upon application by local school authorities, technical assistance and financial aid to assist in dealing with problems of desegregation. Second, it would authorize the Attorney General to institute suits seeking desegregation of public schools where the students or parents involved are unable to bring suit and where he considers that such a suit would materially further the public policy favoring the orderly achievement of desegregation in public education.

Supporters of the bill declare these measures are necessary to carry out the 1954 Supreme Court decision which held that segregated schools are unconstitutional. They report that schools in Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina were still 100 per cent segregated as of Aug. 1, 1963. Florida maintained segregation in 57 out of 67 school districts. Georgia in 181 of 198. North Carolina in 155 of 173. Tennessee in 117 of 154, and Virginia in 96 out of 130.

Representative McCulloch declared that at the present pace it will take until the year 2063 before the compliance order of the 1955 Supreme Court decision will be carried out. That decision ordered compliance "with all deliberate speed."

A great deal of the opposition to this title is based on the contention that federal policy will ultimately seek to wipe out racial imbalance as well as segregation in public schools, despite the amendment on this point added by the House. Opponents say the study which is ordered will show a great deal of racial imbalance and will recommend broadening of the federal restrictions to wipe this out also.

They see the legislation as leading to complete federal control of public education. The aids and grants provided in the bill they term "bribes" to induce local school authorities to go along, and they declare there is an implied threat that federal aids will be withdrawn if federal policies are not carried out. They fear a huge new bureaucracy under the expansion of the powers of the Commissioner of Education.

Opponents also attack the principal that the Attorney General under the bill can institute suits for compliance, rather than only intervene under his present authority. They assert that tax money will be provided to aid "lawless agitators," and that the Attorney General will become an agent of the NAACP.

Opposition is based more on the fear of what may happen in the future than what the bill provides.

The decision that public schools in the United States must be desegregated is now 10 years old. The only question is how fast we are going to proceed to carry out the decision. This bill would provide for a speedup.

The major new principle involved here is the same as in other titles of the bill, giving the Attorney General authority to initiate injunctive actions.

As we have pointed out before, since certain southern states interpret "state's rights" as the right to defy the U. S. Constitution and the federal government, it appears that more power must be given the Attorney General to force these states into line with the large majority of states which observe the federal constitution and federal law.

The Governor's Tax Politics

Gov. Reynolds' new approach to state financial policy, as outlined in his special speech to the returned legislature, is the artful produce of a resourceful political leader anxiously searching for a method of political rehabilitation before facing the voters in the fall.

His claim to have discovered that the state will have a $50 million surplus, after the dismal earlier forecasts of his own staff experts, is a sure-fire key to favorable publicity at a crucial time in a gubernatorial career that thus far has been afflicted by financial crisis and keynoted by a high spending appetite.

His proposals to return some of that claimed surplus to the taxpayers who sent it to Madison, and to spend a substantial additional slice of it for a brand new home-stead tax reduction program with the old folks as particular beneficiaries, are attractive propositions on their face.

The question is whether it is all quite credible.

Legislative leaders, before he unpacked his crate of political goodies, showed some skepticism, based on their own previous experience with the state budget department's handling of these calculations.

Now the governor's own message provides some justification for such skepticism.

At least in the minds of prudent men with an elementary understanding of state finance in the past and with some appreciation of the almost certain expenditure liabilities of the immediate future.

The surplus, under examination, turns out to be a combination of some actual gains over previous estimates of revenue probabilities, speculations about the future, and what would appear to be some juggling of accounts. About a third of the surplus claimed, for example, is accounted for by expected income that normally would be credited to the succeeding biennium. The result of crediting it to the Reynolds budget is to make the task of the next governor, whoever he is, more difficult. There is an optimistic guess about the state financial gain to be realized because of the federal tax cut. But most important, there is a proposal for a new form of aid to a particular class of taxpayers which if accepted will become permanent. Thus the governor would at a single stroke add $40 millions to the tax liability of the next state administration.

He hopes that the next administration will be his. But he cannot be sure that he will be reelected. Evidently he is willing to risk financial complication next year, by bidding for votes now.

Looking Backward

Barbarities at Fort Pillow

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Monitor for April 21, 1864.

The inhuman butchery of the Negro troops and white officers at Fort Pillow, Tenn. (April 12, 1864), is nothing more than might be expected, under the circumstances. This same rebel, Gen. (Nathan) Forrest, was formerly a Negro trader. He was termed among the chivalrous as "nigger driver" and, of course, regards the black man as a soulless chattel.

At the same time, he knows he (the Negro) will fight, and that desperately, for liberty but never for the defense of the perpetuation of slavery. Consequently, though he makes a valuable Federal soldier, yet after handling a Federal musket can never be made available to the Confederate cause. So Forrest murders him on the same principle that he would destroy any other property that might fall into his hands and that might be of use to us but not to him.

No doubt he has his orders to do as he has done from the Confederate authorities, for this act of his is but a repetition of other like brutal butcheries. The rebels think by this course to deter us from using colored troops, and frighten them from entering our army, and the white officers are murdered for the same purpose of intimidation. But the rebels little understand the spirit of our officers, or the newly awakened hope and spirit of freedom in the blacks. These barbarities will likely create more of a terrible spirit of deadly revenge than keep a single man out of the army.

Something must be done, however, to stop these butcheries. Our officers and men must be protected, be they black or white. And if we offer retaliation for contemplated murder at Richmond, as a matter of policy and justice, why not order our colored troops and commanders to show no quarter until the Confederate authorities shall

Definitions

Sec. 401. As used in this title—

(a) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Education.

(b) "Desegregation" means the assignment of students to public schools and within such schools without regard to their race, color, religion, or national origin, but "desegregation" shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance.

(c) "Public School" means any elementary or secondary educational institution, and "public college" means any institution of higher education or any technical or vocational school above the secondary school level, operated by a State, subdivision of a State, or governmental agency within a State, or operated wholly or predominantly from or through the use of governmental funds or property, or funds or property derived from a governmental source.

(d) "School board" means any agency or agencies which administer a system of one or more public schools and any other agency which is responsible for the assignment of students to or within such system.

Survey and Report of Educational Opportunities

Sec. 401. The Commissioner shall conduct a survey and make a report to the President and the Congress, within two years of the enactment of this title, concerning the lack of availability of equal educational opportunities for individuals by reason of race, color, religion, or national origin in public educational institutions at all levels in the United States, its territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

Technical Assistance

Sec. 403. The Commissioner is authorized, upon the application of any school board, State, municipality, school district, or other governmental unit legally responsible for operating a public school or schools, to render technical assistance to such applicant in the preparation, adoption, and implementation of plans for Rosemary Gerritts, Wilbert Hansen and Donald Stone.

Mrs. John Limpert was installed as president of the Ladies Aid Society of the Kimberly Presbyterian Church. Other new officers included Mrs. William Kumbier, vice president, Mrs. Chester Barand, secretary, Mrs. Oscar Ehlke, treasurer, and Mrs. L. C. Smith, chaplain.

10 YEARS AGO
Thursday, April 15, 1954.

The newly organized Century Junior Hi-Y Club elected Tony Bessett president at the group's second meeting. Other officers were Gene Zahren, vice president, James Nemechek, secretary, George Graham, chaplain, and Gene Sonleitner, inter-club reporter.

Five by Eight Bowling League champions for the year were Vivian Huisman, LaVerne Huisman, Theresa Schabow, Ruth Bierman and Erma Glaser. Season winners in the Lucky Pin League included the championship team of Marian Felton, Emily Richter, Shirley Groth, June Diestler and Anita Kohl.

Otto Sherry was named president of the Appleton Community Fund for 1954. He succeeded Milton Kassner in office. Carl Bergstrom was elected vice president, Victor L. Minahan, campaign chairman, and Harold Adams, assistant campaign chairman.

Attorney General receives a complaint—

(1) signed by a parent or group of parents to the effect that his or their minor children, as members of a class of persons similarly situated, are being deprived of the equal protection of the laws by reason of the failure of a school board to achieve desegregation, or

(2) signed by an individual, or his parent, to the effect that he has been denied admission to or not permitted to continue in attendance at a public college by reason of race, color, religion, or national origin, and the Attorney General certifies that the signer or signers of such complaint are unable, in his judgment, to initiate and maintain appropriate legal proceedings for relief and that the institution of an action will materially further the public policy of the United States favoring the orderly achievement of desegregation in public education, the Attorney General is authorized to institute for or in the name of the United States a civil action in any appropriate district court of the United States against such parties and for such relief as may be appropriate, and such court shall have and shall exercise jurisdiction of proceedings instituted pursuant to this section. The Attorney General may implead as defendants such additional parties as are or become necessary to the grant of effective relief hereunder.

(b) The Attorney General may deem a person or persons unable to initiate and maintain appropriate legal proceedings within the meaning of subsection (a) of this section when such person or persons are unable, either directly or through other interested persons or organizations, to bear the expense of the litigation or to obtain effective legal representation; or whenever he is satisfied that the institution of such litigation would jeopardize the employment or economic standing of, or might result in injury or economic damage to, such person or persons, their families, or their property.

(c) The term "parent" as used in this section includes any person standing in loco parentis.

Sec. 408. In any action or proceeding under this title the United States shall be liable for costs the same as a private person.

Sec. 409. Nothing in this title shall affect adversely the right of any person to sue for or obtain relief in any court against discrimination in public education or in any facility covered by this title.

Grants

Sec. 405. (a) The Commissioner is authorized, upon application of a school board, to make grants to such board to pay, in whole or in part, the cost of—

(1) giving to teachers and other school personnel inservice training in dealing with problems incident to desegregation, and

(2) employing specialists to advise in problems incident to desegregation.

(b) In determining whether to make a grant, and in fixing the amount thereof and the terms and conditions on which it will be made, the Commissioner shall take into consideration the amount available for grants under this section and the other applications which are pending before him; the financial condition of the applicant and the other resources available to it; the nature, extent, and gravity of its problems incident to desegregation; and such other factors as he finds relevant.

Payments

Sec. 406. Payments pursuant to a grant or contract under this title may be made (after necessary adjustments on account of previously made overpayments or underpayments) in advance or by way of reimbursement, and in such installments, as the Commissioner may determine.

Wisconsin Report Forestry Referendum Failed for Lack of Efforts in Its Behalf

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — There will be more regretful second guessing about the defeat of the forestry tax amendment in the April 7 referendum than about the others which went down under the assaults of a skeptical electorate on election day.

The record is fairly clear that the forestry finance proposal would have won approval, except for its juxtaposition with a number of other referendum ballot propositions that obviously had little appeal for the electorate. Some of the forces involved in the fight against the others, moreover, found it expedient to advocate a blanket vote of "no" on the referendum, which evidently had its effect. The depth of the protests against the highway spending and borrowing proposition, meanwhile, had some whiplash consequence, it may be surmised.

Yet it must be said also that some of the organizations and the interests that had the greatest stake in the question of an effective forest service and the proud conservation movement of the state as a whole did little or nothing to promote the amendment or to explain it in a situation which contained obvious hazards of association.

Default

Nobody has more to gain from forest protection and its associated services than the giant forest products industries of Wisconsin.

But if the mills and the timber plantation owners and the many others concerned about a viable northern Wisconsin economy did anything in this campaign, it didn't attract any notice around Madison.

There are scores of organizations in the state ostensibly devoted to the objectives of sound conservation of natural resources. The keystone of the conservation program in any definition is the forestry enterprise. About two years ago there was an announcement about the formation of an ambitious federation of local conservation groups under the popular tag of "people's lobby," which set as its goal the consolidation of the serious conservation sentiment of Wisconsin into an objective political force. But, again, very little was heard from that "people's lobby" in this case — or, in fact, on many of the other policy issues that have turned up since its birth.

This column commented critically recently on the intervention of the Conservation Commission in the referendum campaign, noting that the effect was the use of tax dollars to persuade the taxpayers to vote more tax dollars. Yet in retrospect the anxiety of the conservation administration can be understood. Nobody else was doing anything. Something needed to be done. The department acted reluctantly, and as it turned out, too late.

NEW ROUND

Although the rejection of the forestry amendment was decisive enough, it was not by such a margin as to discourage another try.

The Legislature is basically sympathetic. A new amendment will doubtless be prepared, for another submission to the voters later and perhaps without the distractions of competing and less acceptable propositions on the ballot. Under the rules such an attempt will require consideration by two Legislatures and thus the decision will be distant in time.

But the issue won't go away. Tied to the property tax base as it is, and afflicted with inflationary cost pressures as it is, the forestry service is in precisely the same position as most of the municipal and county governments of Wisconsin and the school districts which have had to raise their tax rates because their budget requirements have expanded more rapidly than their tax foundations.

The next time around, it may be guessed, the conservation interest which has a powerful punch when mobilized will be more attentive and responsive.

Strictly Personal Agreements Between Nations Meaningless

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices:

Agreements and treaties between independent nations are as meaningless as checks written on non-existent bank accounts; there is not a nation in the world that would not denounce and repudiate any treaty it had signed if it felt that changed conditions threatened its welfare under the terms of the agreement.

An important man writes his memoirs in order to enhance his posthumous fame—and yet, in nine cases out of ten, such publication simply diminishes his stature, for the memoirs of important men reveal their pettiness in ways they are hardly aware of.

Those most addicted to the phrase, "Let's face it," are always confronting us with platitudes that aren't worth facing.

A woman can forgive a man for doing the wrong thing more easily than she can forgive him for attempting the right thing at the wrong time; for her sense of justice is less rigid than a man's, but her sense of appropriateness and timing is much more highly developed.

About Bridge Players

Almost every bridge player thinks he plays at least a level better than he really does — and it is this very delusion that prevents him from actually playing as well as he thinks he does.

The motto that should be engraved over the entrance to every university and other institution of higher learning is the one proposed by Whitehead for scientists and natural philosophers: "Seek simplicity, and distrust it."

War is simply an extension of politics — and it is folly to believe that it will ever be eradicated from human affairs until politics ceases to be a sovereign entity and becomes subordinated to moral authority.

(Those, by the way, who insist that war is a "natural tendency" in the human animal should ponder the words of Fairfield Osborn in his book, "Our Plundered Planet," where he says: "Warfare as practised by man has no parallel in nature; within the more highly developed animal populations of this earth there is not now nor has there ever been similar destruction within a species itself.")

The whole trouble with punishment is that only those who need it least are capable of profiting from it; for the unredeemable, punishment only provokes more anger, more resentment, more desire to return the injury in kind.

The great revolution of our time is not political, or social, or ideological, but technological, in that for the first time in history it is now possible to provide a more abundant life for the many without taking away from the few, to augment rather than transfer wealth.

Appleton Students Working Way to France Thank Friends

Editor, Post-Crescent:
As we approach the final weeks of our money-earning campaign to finance our group activities in France this summer, we would like to thank everyone who has helped us. As many of you know, each of the twenty-two students making the trip is privately responsible for his own fare and spending money. The students have earned all or part of this amount on their own. Our room and board is being provided through the generosity of French families who are "adopting" an American son or daughter for six weeks. The money we have been raising through group projects goes into a general fund designated to further our education in France. By attending the theater, opera, concerts, and museums and by visiting places of historical significance (a weekend bus trip to view French castles is our dream), we hope to gain an understanding of French history and culture.

It has been heartening to find so many people willing to support our undertakings—from our first car wash to our present sale of movie tickets. In addition to friends, relatives and neighbors, many others in this vicinity have aided us. At our recent rummage sale the merchants of Valley Fair were especially kind, and business people throughout the city have given us their patronage in our sales of candy turtles and movie tickets. Most surprising and encouraging have been the friendly comments and offers of help from total strangers. These are samples: "What a worthwhile project!" "Keep the change for your fund." "Would you like me to bring some rummage for your sale?" A Neenah customer thoughtfully suggested, "Maybe I can interest a few friends in your movie." Through such gestures people have given new impetus to our venture and new courage to us all, especially to those of us who aren't born salesmen.

Since we cannot personally thank each of you, we want to express our appreciation and gratitude in this letter. Your support of our projects makes us realize how genuinely friendly the people of Appleton and of this area really are and your faith in us increases our determination to be the best possible teen-age ambassadors to France. Here is a heartfelt "thank-you" from twenty-two Appleton High School French students who comprise

Mail Order Police Dogs Profitable

Editor, Post-Crescent:
After analyzing the wide-spread support of Governor Wallace in the Wisconsin primary, I have come to the conclusion that someone may be interested in the following suggestion.

Incorporate a business of selling mail order police dogs trained to satisfy every faction in the country.

Examples: 1. Discriminating dogs trained to chase just colored folks 2. The same to chase just white folks. These two categories would be most expensive because they are the most difficult to train.

3. Dogs trained exclusively to bite other dogs 4. For the real fanatics, dogs trained to bite everyone. These would be medium priced dogs because they are relatively easy to train.

5. For the pacifists, dogs that refuse to hurt even a fly. This type being misfits could be sold for just enough to cover costs.

This plan would help the state's economy by employing people of both races who are now on relief. An experienced specialist could be brought in from Alabama.

Here is a money making scheme for someone without too many scruples. We have plenty in Wisconsin.

Tougaloo College Only One Integrated in Mississippi

Editor, Post-Crescent:
On page B1, on March 31, your paper ran an article concerning Tougaloo College in Jackson, Mississippi. In this article, it was stated that Tougaloo College is an "all Negro school." Tougaloo College has for many years been an integrated school. It is, at this time, the only integrated college in Mississippi. "Ole Miss," the only other Mississippi school which has ever admitted Negro and white students concurrently, is again segregated.

Tougaloo, like all colleges in the South, perennially faces a problem of overcrowding, yet the school has consistently maintained a policy of admission without regard to race. This policy has been the cause of much difficulty in Mississippi, where such unbiased attitudes are often frowned upon. It is for this reason that the Mississippi Legislature has recently proposed a bill which provides for the revocation of the charter of Tougaloo College.

Editors Study Bar's Efforts To Curb News

getting from the bench and bar," Creed's committee said. "That is the extent to which television is complicating matters for all media."

The committee noted that the New York County Lawyers' Association has declared that the "special visual impact" of television makes new measures necessary to protect the right of accused persons to a fair trial. The lawyers said they were convinced that "any reliance on voluntary restraints by the television industry are largely doomed to failure."

Admit Shortcomings

The emphasis on television "is not to suggest that the newspapers of America are blameless," the editors' report went on.

It said:

"Indeed, the necessity to re-examine our own shortcomings and rid our own house of irresponsibility becomes all the more urgent if we are to head off measures which—although aimed primarily at television—could affect us all and invite greater abuses in the administration of justice than those they

Liner's Captain's Friends Prove to be Stowaway Couple

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—for 3½ weeks Dutch artist Fritz Meyer and his wife hobnobbed with the captain of the Dutch liner Willem Ruys. Then the skipper found out they were stowaways.

"Just imagine," Capt. Herman Van Den Heuvel told reporters today. "These people introduced themselves to me at a cocktail party and I thought they were a fine couple. During the voyage I saw them at several parties. I even shared a bottle of wine with them."

The Meyers were hoping to return to Australia. They had come as immigrants in 1956 but had gone back to Holland two years later.

The shipping line wants full payment—$810—or else it will return them to Rotterdam.

"It looks as if they will stay on board until we get back to Holland in a month's time," said the captain.

three districts from southwestern counties that now have four districts.

Party Lines Not Solid

Three Democrats and as many Republicans left party ranks in voting on the bill. Voting with the Republican majority were Democrats Leland McParland of Cudahy and Milwaukeeans Norman Sussman and Casimir Kendzioriski.

Republicans opposed were Chester Dempsey of Hartland, Reuben LaFave of Oconto and Gordon Roseleip of Darlington. Before voting on the bill sent on to the Assembly, the senators rejected on a 22-11 vote an attempt by Sen. Richard Zaboriski, D-Milwaukee, to provide 2 seats for Milwaukee County.

Zaboriski argued that "Milwaukee County has a quarter of the state's population," and said his plan "would put the citizens of Milwaukee on an equal footing with the people in the rest of the state."

The Milwaukee County seat would be gained by forming

Provisions of Bills

One would grant $5.2 million a year in property tax relief to those over 65, and the other would increase from $15 to $20 the income tax exemption for those over 65.

The reapportionment plan passed by the Senate would raise the number of Waukesha County Assembly seats to four. The two seats would be gained by cutting Douglas County from two to one and by breaking up the Florence, Forest and Langlade district by adding each of the counties to a surrounding district.

Early Trial Asked for Stratton in Tax Case

CHICAGO (AP) — Government prosecutors say they will press for an early trial of William G. Stratton, former Republican governor of Illinois, who was indicted Wednesday on charges of evading payment of $46,676 in income taxes.

Edward Hanrahan, U.S. district attorney, said no date has been set for the trial of Stratton, 50, who was defeated in 1960 for a third term as governor.

Republican spokesmen called the indictment a personal matter, with no relation to the Republican party.

A federal grand jury charged that Stratton evaded payment of $46,676 in taxes on $93,595 income amassed during 1957-1960, Stratton's second and last term in office.

Stratton, in a statement, denied any wrongdoing.

W. German News Agency in Russia Ordered Closed

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today ordered the closing of the Moscow office of the West German news agency DPA, which on Monday circulated a false report that Soviet Premier Khrushchev had died.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the action was ordered by the Foreign Ministry.

In a Russian-language transmission, Tass said the order was issued because the agency Deutsche Presse Agentur, has been "spreading provocative and false reports concerning the U.S.S.R."

The agency's Moscow correspondent, whose name was given only as Wurzel, "has been asked to leave the Soviet Union within 24 hours," Tass said.

The Tass announcement made no mention of DPA's erroneous report about Khrushchev. DPA withdrew the report 23 minutes after its first flash and on Tuesday apologized for it. The agency said it was making a full investigation and had suspended all staff members connected with the affair. It said all were members of its head office in Hamburg.

Farmer Dies Under Overturned Tractor

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death of a Chippewa County farmer, who was trapped under his overturned tractor, has raised the Wisconsin traffic toll for 1964 to 259, compared with 184 on this date last year.

Peter Dusick, 60, of rural Boyd, was killed Wednesday when his tractor toppled into a deep ditch and fell on him after leaving Chippewa County Trunk D about two miles north of Boyd. Dusick had been towing an empty hay wagon.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Sixty-two nations will be invited to the second Asian-African summit conference, to be held in Africa next March.

But Malaysia will not be among them unless the dispute with Indonesia is settled. And a proposed invitation to the Soviet Union was left unsettled because of objections raised by Red China at a preliminary meeting which ended Wednesday.

Revolt Smashed By Syrian Troops

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—

Army troops have smashed the third antigovernment revolt since Syria's Baath Socialist regime came to power in a military coup 13 months ago.

A government spokesman said an uprising in Hamah, 130 miles north of Damascus, was put down Wednesday with two persons killed. The city of 100,000 was still under a 24-hour curfew today, but bakeries and groceries were ordered to reopen, and easing of the restriction was expected.

Red Tape About Alaska Loans Causes Turmoil

Group Charged With Too Much Technical Concern

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—A highly explosive political earthquake that could have stinging election repercussions is rumbling ominously under that Alaska Reconstruction Commission created by President Johnson to aid the disaster-shattered state.

Top Alaska officials and business leaders are irately charging the commission with pussy-footing and penny-pinching, with evincing more concern about technicalities and formalities than the restoration of the state's devastated cities, homes and economy.

Particular target of these angry backstage complaints is Senator Clinton Anderson, D-N.M., commission chairman.

Alaskan Conditions

It is being indignantly pointed out that the veteran New Mexican politico has little or no direct knowledge of Alaskan conditions and needs, and is displaying a tight fisted and legalistic attitude in coping with them.

The one-time agriculture secretary in the Truman cabinet aroused a resentful outburst at a meeting last week when he suggested that hard-hit Alaskans go into bankruptcy. Anderson characterized this as a "normal process" and cited examples, notably the long bankruptcy of the now-prospering Missouri-Pacific Railroad.

The proposal drew caustic retort from Elmer Rasmuson, Anchorage banker, whose home was destroyed.

"Surely, you aren't serious," exclaimed Rasmuson. "Such bankruptcy would break every bank in Alaska. What kind of a solution is that? What we need is a helping hand, and not legal gimmicks and stratagems. What's a man going to do who has lost his home, his business or his plant? How is he going to get started again by going into bankruptcy?"

Bitter Response

Anderson got a similar bitter response when he advised a Kodiak cannery to borrow money to put his badly damaged plant into operation.

"Where would I obtain such a loan?" demanded Peter Deveau, mayor of Kodiak and manager of the cannery, the only one remaining there. "We were already in debt from expanding and modernizing our plant before the disaster wrecked us. Where and how would we get additional credit on top of this debt, unless we are helped by the government?"

But if the government will lend us $200,000, the cannery can be put into shape in time for the fishing season, and that will mean employment for at least 300 people now out of work. That would be a tremendous boon to Kodiak and Alaska's economy in general."

Dead silence followed Deveau's request

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME

This threatening political storm is bluntly summarized in a blistering letter Senator Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, has sent Senator Anderson.

Gruening minced no words and pulled no punches in his backstage blast.

If the U.S. can spend billions aiding foreign countries not stricken by disaster, he told Anderson, why shouldn't a U.S. state in dire need get the same kind of treatment?

In fact, Gruening suggested, it might be a good idea to use some of the unspent foreign aid funds (estimated by him at $10 billion) for this purpose.

To dramatize this point, he stressed the tremendous losses suffered by Alaska's fishing fleet and the millions the U.S. had ladled out to foreign countries

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, the ODRINEX plan. You must lose up to 100 lbs. or your money back. One of the basic problems of losing weight is your inability to stick to a planned diet. The ODRINEX plan contains a tiny tablet and is easily swallowed. When you take ODRINEX, you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food thus making it easier and more comfortable for you to diet. Your weight must come down because as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. Of course ODRINEX can't do all the work for you alone. But if you really want to cut down on your eating, and lose weight ODRINEX can be a powerful helper. The ODRINEX plan costs $3.00 and is sold on this guarantee: If not satisfied for any reason just return the package to your druggist and get your full money back. No questions asked. to rehabilitate and develop their fishing industries.

"One of Alaska's greatest losses was to its canneries and fishing fleet," pointed out Gruening. "This is a major industry and vital to Alaska's total economy. Without its reconstruction there will be high economic losses and high unemployment. We've been more than generous in developing the fishing resources and industries of a multitude of countries."

Aid Grants

"Nationalist China, $848,000—its first grant in 1955 closely paralleled Mayor Deveau's request in amount, namely $204,000; Indonesia, headed by that charming Sukarno, who has just said: 'To hell with your aid,' $907,198; Cambodia, which likewise has told us to get the hell out, $159,000; Viet Nam, where we have recently, on Secretary McNamara's return, stepped up our military aid—already over $1 billion, by $50 million—nearly $2 million in fishery aid ($1,908,000 to be exact) *"

"India, $1,128,620; Pakistan,

$1,355,670 (apparently when two nations are at swords' point we've got to help them both, as further illustrated by warring Ethiopia and Somalia, both of which get fishery grants from us); also, Korea, to the tune of $5,351,000 to date; Laos, Liberia, Turkey, Tunisia, Ghana, Ivory Coast, Nigeria, Iceland, Spain, Yugoslavia, Chile, El Salvador, Peru and British Guiana.

"None of these countries has suffered damage to their fisheries as has Alaska. To me, the contrast is shocking; indeed, nauseating."
